

Gettysburg Compiler

95TH YEAR

GETTYSBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 4, 1913

NO. 42

SOUTHERN ORATOR THRILLS

CONGRESSMAN HEFLIN MAKES THE MEMORIAL DAY ORATION

It is Declared to be One of the Best Orations Ever Delivered Here.

Memorial day at Gettysburg in 1913 will stand out in the history of this community as a day in one respect entirely different from any previous Memorial Day ever held here and a day emphasizing in a wonderful way the message of Gettysburg as another name for a national unity cemented here. The occasion was different because it was the first time since the day has been celebrated here with appropriate services, that a native of Dixie land has been honored with an invitation to deliver the oration, and Congressman Hefflin of Alabama was equal to the situation and gave an oration that everyone declared was one of the best ever delivered here and there were those who declared that it was the best oration ever spoken in Gettysburg on a Memorial Day.

The success of the occasion is most gratifying and is due in large measure to Congressman A. R. Brodbeck of the Adams-York district who secured the speaker for the occasion. Corporal Skelly Post No. 9, G. A. R., of this place is entitled to much credit in that the cost on the occasion of Memorial Day of the year of the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle extended the invitation to an orator living in the land of the Boys who wore the Gray. Gettysburg suffered more than any other community north of Mason and Dixon's line from the ravages of war. Gettysburg gave to that war as large a proportion of her sons as any other community of the North. Gettysburg belongs to the nation as an interpretation of the national unity resulting from the struggle her and it was most appropriate in this year of celebration of the fifty years of peace since, that our Post should send an invitation to a Southern brother to speak the message of the day and it is most gratifying that Congressman Hefflin's response to that invitation proved to be an oration recognized as one of the greatest ever delivered here, an oration throbbing with the Gettysburg message of National unity.

Memorial Day proved to be one usually expected here of uncertain weather prospects with a small shower at the wrong moment. On last Friday the rain drops began as the parade started for the cemetery.

The crowd however was no disappointment. The Pennsylvania Railroad sent in by way of Hanover over the Western Maryland, seven trains. The W. M. R. R. handled nine excursion trains of their own a total of 167 coaches being brought in over this road and the total number of passengers from these two sources being 3,155. The Reading R. R. had three trains, bringing in a total of 1,274 people. There was the usual crowd from the country and a very large attendance by automobiles.

The parade formed on the square at 1.30 p. m., Lieutenant I. S. Stonessier being chief marshal with Wm. McG. Tawney as aide. The Citizens Band led the way followed by the Third Battalion, Fifth United States Infantry, Major Larsen in command. This body of soldiers are in camp here helping in the preparations for the 50th Anniversary celebration and their presence in the parade contributed much to its success. The East York Band with Captain Kraber and his York Cadets followed the Regulars forming the second division. The Sons of Veterans leading the Grand Army Veterans on foot and in automobiles, formed the third and last division of the parade.

When the cemetery was reached the infantry halted, the Citizens Band counter-marched to the third division and led the Grand Army men past the four companies of the Regulars standing at "present arms."

At the National Cemetery the graves of the veterans were first strewn with flowers by their comrades, and by the school children of the town, while the band played a dirge. At the conclusion of this stirring ceremony the Grand Army service was held, with three volleys by the York Cadets Squad.

Hon. Andrew R. Brodbeck, congressman of the Adams-York District was master of ceremonies at the rostrum. The invocation was made by Rev. J. Charles Gaidner, pastor of the United Brethren Church, Lincoln's Gettysburg Address was read by Prof. Chas. F. Sanders of Gettysburg College.

Congressman Brodbeck then in a few well chosen words introduced the orator, among other things saying:

By grace of an All-wise Providence we are permitted to assemble here to-genuine republic—prepare ye the way." The hardships and suffering that they endured—their heroic deeds and daring exploits testify how well and how faithfully they prepared the way. When we look back over the path that our liberty has come we do not see her winding through labyrinthian shades of ease and luxury, but we behold her coming up through human sacrifices and heroic suffering—through death to life. King rule died in the thirteen colonies and this republic of the West was born. The first sound that fell upon its infant ears was that of the soldiers' tread—the roll of the musketry and the thunder of artillery. Our colonial fathers from north and south and east and west fought together when they brought the republic into being. They defended it together in the war of 1812, they triumphed together under Gen. Taylor when they carried the Stars and Stripes into the heritage of the Montezumas.

But my friends there was another

50TH ANNIVERSARY NEWS

SOMETHING OF THOSE WHO ARE DOING THE WORK.

Something of the Bluff Preparation for Big Ones To Offset Deficiencies for the Private.

Much of the preparation of the State of Pennsylvania for the 50th Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg looks to the observer on the ground like a bluff. "No member of the Commission is located here and the Secretary runs in and out of Gettysburg intermittently. There are others who are busy but when it comes to the exploiting of news of what is being done, the workers keep modestly in the rear as usual and the bluff parades with a story, not of what the Commission is doing or has ordered to be done, but what the only real genuine bluff, Col. Lewis E. Gettler, is doing.

The real work that is being done is that largely overseen at the Government offices under Major Normoyle, assisted by Major Grove, Captain Humphries, Captain Dalton and Sergeant Gray. They are not talking, but doing things that must be done to make good for the celebration.

On Sunday, Assistant Secretary of War Breckenridge, Major General W. W. Wotherspoon, and Lieutenant Colonel Brainerd, with Major Normoyle inspected the camp and found preparations well advanced, many tents up, frames for kitchens erected and stacks of wood ready for the cooks. The water system with tanks is almost completed. The latrines are about finished. The lighting system is complete.

There seems to be some misapprehension as to what the veterans may expect when they arrive here and letters that are being written show some concerns as to what may be expected by veterans in the camp. Veterans should assure themselves of the careful and thorough plans made for their care and entertainment. The menus printed last week show that the veterans will be substantially fed. They will be housed under canvas, the very best that Uncle Sam has. The water will be of the purest and the camp will be lighted as bright as day and with guards will be made as safe as can be made for the veteran. If any veteran becomes sick he will be cared for in the hospital by expert nurses and physicians. The veteran is going to have many comforts and conveniences. The only criticism as to these preparations is not to the real work the workers are doing but to the lack of money at their command and the necessity thereby to omit one item—board floors in their tents.

When the decision was made to stake the success of the celebration on the chances of four days of good weather it would have been wise to diminish all risk by placing board floors in the tents. The ground upon which the camp is located may be made comfortable with straw in tents with entire safety to men of seventy and over but bad weather could make a mess that board floors would avoid. It ought not to be too late for the State Legislature to authorize board floors so that the cost could be taken care of if appropriation is exhausted.

If the veterans suffer for the want of any protection, listen how the bluff will be worked overtime. The Pennsylvania Commission's employees are going to care for the distinguished guests at College and Seminary. Where students are not willing to have contents of rooms used or they are not suitable the rooms are to be cleared out. Arrangements are being made to furnish these rooms in keeping with the distinguished guests to occupy them. The contract for the catering to officialdom has been given out and from the news gathered one can safely conclude that no money is being spared to make the big fellows comfortable. They will have plenty to eat, etc. If things happen that should not the Commission will have as witnesses the big officials to voluminously testify as to thorough preparations, which however would not apply to the private sufferings for want of board floors but which would help to drown their testimony as to the same.

It was something of the same kind of bluff that developed last week in Rhode Island, where events were being shaped toward taking few veterans and spending a large part of the $7000 appropriation on the attendance of the Governor and his staff. Circular letters were sent out to Rhode Island veterans signed by Charles W. Abbott, Jr., Secretary, saying:

"The commission finds that about 200 more names of veterans have been received that the State appropriation can take to Gettysburg. Realizing that perhaps many do not understand the situation and that the commission must decide within a few days it sends you this circular.

"Are you going to Gettysburg?"

"Do you understand that the appropriation pays only for the tickets going and returning; that you will probably be one night and day going and returning."

"When you arrive you must carry your own baggage to the camp, and you are to sleep in tents and live on United States rations, cooked but issued as when you were in the army."

"You will be in these tents and live on these rations for at least four days, with no chance to hire a room or go to a hotel if you are sick."

"Think it over, at once, and answer questions on inclosed postal card the day you receive it, without fail."

"If any veteran is able to pay for transportation, approximately $15, and wants to, the commission will make arrangements for quarters in tents at Gettysburg for him."

This evident purpose to discourage veterans from coming so that the money could be spent upon officialdom had to be called off when exposed. The Governor would not stand for it.

If Governor Tener wants to save the same kind of a game here, he should authorize board floors in all tents and avoid all risks and give assurance that the preparations for the rank and file will not be left incomplete at any one point but will be as thorough as for the big officials.

The Knights Templars at York last week adopted the following resolutions pertinent to the celebration.

Whereas, It has been fifty years since the battle of Gettysburg; fifty years since these valiant soldiers from the North and the South, all believing themselves to be enlisted in a just and righteous cause, faced each other upon Pennsylvania soil.

Whereas, During the fifty years since that magnificent display of devotion to the cause each believed was right, and whose bravery has never been surpassed upon any battlefield in the world's history the bond of fraternity has again made the men of the North and the men of the South brothers in one great family, and

Whereas, The Knights Templar of Pennsylvania, in sixtieth annual convocation, assembled in this historic city of York, ever proud of this great nation which we call ours, and the one flag which is today revered from Atlantic ocean to the Pacific ocean; from the great lakes to the Gulf of Mexico, cannot permit this anniversary of peace to pass unobserved. Therefore be it

Resolved, That the Knights Templar of Pennsylvania, in sixtieth annual convocation, assembled at York, Pa., this twenty-seventh day of May, 1913, do hereby send knightly and fraternal greetings to all the Knights Templar of our sister jurisdictions in the Southern states, with the devout wish that the fiftieth anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg, the "high water mark" of the Civil War, will so reunite the North and the South that nothing will ever again disrupt it and be it further

Resolved, That the Grand Recorder of the Grand Commandery of Pennsylvania be instructed to convey these sentiments to all our sister Grand Commanderies in the Southern states, and that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this convocation of the Grand Commandery of Pennsylvania.

It is to be hoped that no road leading into Gettysburg, and controlled by the State will be spared adequate preparation. There are parus of a number of the roads that should receive attention, by removal of breakers, filling mud holes, etc. A little work on all of them should put them in first class condition, specially in view of the news that the State roads will be oiled.

For the benefit of those persons who intend to visit Gettysburg by auto or in a team during the fiftieth anniversary celebration of the battle, next July, the roads leading out of Gettysburg, will be oiled for distances of five to 25 miles. This work will be done under the supervision of Edward S. Frey, state highway engineer for this district. Engineer Frey is in need of sprinklers to carry out this work and is advertising for the same. He expects to rush the work to completion before the travel to the battlefield town begins.

The news has reached here that the number of applications for transportation from Pennsylvania had reached 21,000 at the close of last Saturday. The assertion is ventured that if the doors were kept open as they should that the whole of the $4,000 to whom applications were sent would turn them in. Two Adams county veterans applied to Secretary Beiter on last Saturday and were told that he could not tell them for certain whether they would be accommodated but that their names would be sent in.

The United Confederate Veterans were in session at Chattanooga last week and Gen. C. Irvine Walker, reported that the committee of which he was chairman had co-operated with a similar committee from the Grand Army of the Republic in regard to participation in the Gettysburg celebration and the committee urged that at least 10,000 Confederate Veterans attend the celebration. The announcement in the report that the Confederate Veterans would be welcomed "in their gray uniforms and with battle-scarred flags" was greeted with cheers.

The Health Department of the State are at work vigorously preparing for the hospital for the general public to be located along Winebrenner's lane. Work is being pushed upon the latrines being erected at six points in the borough, connection being made with the town sanitary sewer.

A. M. E. Conference.

The A. M. E. Conference for this district met in Carlisle last week. Bishop Alexander Walters, D.D., presiding. When the appointments were announced, Rev. W. O. Cooper was returned to the Gettysburg church. The conference raised from all sources during the year $4,828.18. The next conference will be held at York.

PERSONALLY CONDUCTED

ALONG THE LINES OF INDIVIDUAL HAPPENINGS.

Comings and Goings, Social Events and Other Items of Interest.

—Miss Booth of Pittsburgh is the guest of Mrs. S. S. Neely on Lincoln avenue.

—Miss Demaree of Newport, and Mrs. Harold Lewars of Harrisburg, spent Sunday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Singmaster.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hersh, Miss Catharine Duncan and Miss Julia Cannon have returned from a motor trip to Winchester, Va.

—Mrs. W. A. Martin has returned from a weeks visit with relatives in York.

—Mrs. Rebecca Heagy has returned to West York after visiting at the home of her son, G. W. G. Heagy.

—Schmucker Duncan of Washington, D. C. is spending several weeks at the home of his mother, Mrs. Catharine Duncan, Lincoln avenue.

—Mrs. McBeth of New York City, is the guest of Miss Aouda Dutera.

—Miss Anna Blake has returned from Tyrore where she is a member of the faculty of the public schools, to spend some time in town.

—Miss Marie Spatz who has been visiting Miss Minerva Taughnbaugh, has returned to her home in York.

—Mrs. John M. Blocher and Mrs. H. B. Bender have returned from a trip to Philadelphia, Norristown and Washington.

—E. A. Crouse, J. A. Holtzworth, Harry Holtzworth, P. W. Stallsmith and James McDonnell motored to Washington on Monday to see the base ball game between the Athletics and Washington.

—Dr. Billheimer has returned from a visit with his brothers in Little Rock, Arkansas.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McDonnell spent Sunday with relatives in Hanover.

—Dr. and Mrs. David McKinley of Louisville, Ky., visited friends in town last week.

—John L. Sherfy and party of Washington, D. C., motored to Gettysburg last week and spent Memorial Day with relatives in town.

—Dr. S. S. Neely has returned to Philadelphia after a short visit with friends here.

—Miss Mary Kohler has returned from a month's visit in Norfolk, Va.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Schroeder spent several days last week in York attending the convocation of the Knights Templar.

—Rev. and Mrs. Luther Sieber of New Haven, Conn., and Mrs. Moyer and daughter of Cape May are spending some time at the home of Rev. and Mrs. L. L. Sieber.

—Miss Julia Cannon of Knoxville, Tenn., is the guest of Miss Catherine Duncan.

—Mrs. Victor B. Hausknecht of Harrisburg is spending two weeks at the home of her father, Hon. W. A. Martin.

—Donald Hake of Niagara Falls is spending two weeks in town.

—Rev. M. C. Horine of Lanark visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Swartz for several days last week.

—Mrs. Charles T. Ziegler of Bloomington, Ill., is visiting relatives in town.

—George Grammer of the U. S. N., formerly of Gettysburg, spent several days last week with friends in town.

—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. B. Kurtz of Germantown, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Eckert on Saturday.

—Mr. and Mrs. Roy Miller and children expect to move this month to Nebraska where Mr. Miller will conduct a shoe store, and where they will make their future home.

—Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Denninger have returned from a visit with relatives in Hughesville.

—Sister Mary J. Barbehenn and Miss Burger have returned to Philadelphia after a visit at the home of Henry P. Barbehenn.

—Rev. and Mrs. Edmund Menges of Lemorne, Pa., have returned to their home after a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blocher.

—Miss Belle Griffith of Harrisburg is spending some time at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Henry Stewart.

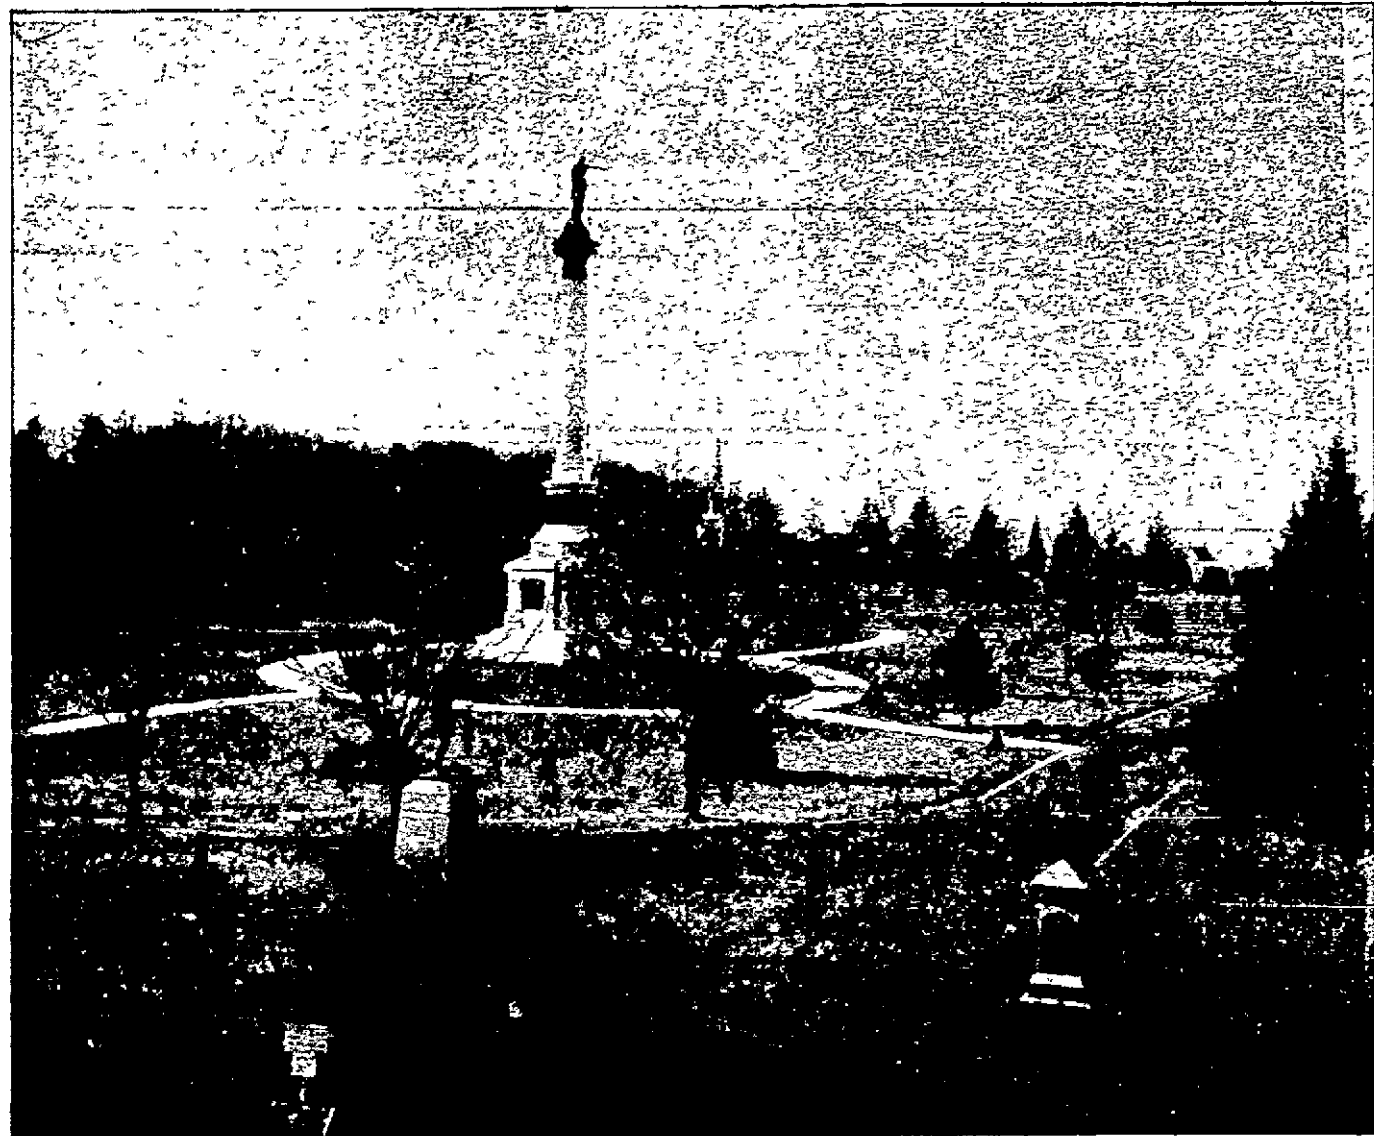

—Mrs. Frank R. Peckman entertained at her home on Broadway on last Tuesday afternoon.

—Miss Frances Fritcher entertained a number of friends at a Bridge luncheon on Memorial Day.

—John B. Zinn has returned to Baltimore after a brief visit at the home of his mother. Mr. Zinn will graduate this month from Johns Hopkins University, and receive his degree for completed work in chemistry. He will be assistant professor in chemistry at Amherst College next fall.

—Hon. Wm. A. Martin was injured last week by a horse at his stable in this place. He was knocked down and received a dislocated shoulder, but we are glad to state that he is recovering nicely from the injuries received.

—Among the visitors to Gettysburg, on Memorial Day, were Harold Harding, Esq., formerly of this place, with Mrs. Harding, Mrs. Hunt and Mr. and Mrs. Clark, all of Ellicott City, Howard Co., Md. They came in their car, went over the field, spent some time with Miss Annie Danner and returned home in the evening, their trip was made in their car, fifty-four miles in three hours.

VIEW OF NATIONAL CEMETERY

great battle to be fought before the unmistakable status of the Union was finally fixed. It was the conflict of internal ideas and forces—the final and crucial test of the Republic's strength durability. The combat took place on the field of battle in the War between the States. The right of the State to secede and the right of the Union to prevent it—the status of rights and relationship between State and Federal Government had to be settled once and for all time. This question could not be determined in the councils of peace; it had to be settled by the arbitrament of the sword. Dr. Ellis, a northerner man, in his history of our country, says truly that the question of secession was never authoritatively settled until the war settled it.

"Hope's precious pearl in sorrow's cup, Unmelted at the bottom lay. To shine again when all drunk up, And the bitterness should pass away."

"So the Republic once abounding with conflicting opinions as to rights and powers belonging to State and Federal Government is to-day the harmonious household of sovereign states—the home of a brave and happy people. Here we bow with solemn reverence in honor of our nation's dead; here we pay to their blessed memory the tribute of our united love. Heroism never had truer representatives than those who made this battlefield immortal. Here the soldier in Blue and the soldier in Gray read in each others eyes courage born of convictions—devotion to principle—and a willingness to do and to die for what they believed was right. Here the soldier in Gray met a foeman worthy of his steel, and here the soldier in Blue met as brave a warrior as ever shouldered a gun or drew a battle blade. Here Union and Confederate soldiers by their daring sacrifice and heroism challenged the admiration of the world. Here Northern valor drew up in battle line the bravest of her brave—the noblest specimens of her patriotic manhood, and here Southern chivalry marshalled the flower of her army—the noblest types of her splendid citizenship. Here the brave Union soldier checked the march of the hitherto irresistible Confederate soldier—here the tide of war was turned, and here many contend the decisive battle was fought. Here fought and fell the heroic representatives of the two bravest armies that ever crossed the field of carnage, or battled for what they believed to be right. Here both armies fought for the right as God gave them the power to see it. Here in the red glare of destructive battle fire two mighty lessons were taught, one that the Union should be preserved, and the other that the Union should be ever mindful and considerate of the rights of the States. Here the Union soldier died that the Union might live, and here the Confederate soldier in his death put a stress and emphasis on constitutional powers and limitations that will live while the Republic endures."

(Continued on page 4.)

HOT BISCUIT,

hot cakes, made with ROYAL Baking Powder are delicious, healthful and easily made.

MARRIAGES.

COLLINS—LONG.—At the home of the bride's parents at Merion, near Philadelphia, Miss Marion H. Long, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Cameron Long, was married at noon last Thursday, to Herman L. Collins, a newspaper man of Philadelphia. The bride was unattended except by Miss Helen J. Collins of Williamsport, who served as flower girl, and only relatives and a few friends attended the ceremony. The father of the bride is general manager of the Pennsylvania Railroad. The bride is well known in Gettysburg where she has visited.

McKENNA — TIMMINS.—St. Mary's Church, McSherrystown, was the scene of a beautiful wedding Tuesday, May 20th, when Patrick Henry McKenna, of Philadelphia, and Miss Mary Leonide Timmins, of McSherrystown, were united in marriage at a nuptial mass. The officiating priest was Rev. M. P. Gramley of Philadelphia, an uncle of the groom, and was assisted by Rev. L. Aug. Reutter, rector of St. Mary's. The attendants were Miss Grace Timmins, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, and Edward Conley of Philadelphia, cousin of the groom as best man. The bride wore a becoming gown of white satin and carried a bouquet of white Killarney roses, while the bridesmaid was attired in pink champagne and carried a bouquet of pink Killarney roses. Following the ceremony a reception was tendered the young couple at the home of the bride, at which only the relatives and a few intimate friends were present. Mr. and Mrs. McKenna left on a wedding trip, after which they will be at home at No. 5717 Filbert street, Philadelphia, in which city the groom is a prominent young business man. The bride, who is a charming and accomplished young lady, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Timmins of McSherrystown. She is a graduate of St. Joseph's Academy, and was a former student at Mr. DeChampe College, Wheeling, W. Va. The bride was the recipient of a costly array of wedding presents, of silver, cut glass, china and fine linens.

FLOTO—STILLWAGON.—After the example recently set by two seniors in Gettysburg College, it is not surprising to find a Freshman following their example. Carl Floto, of Conneville, a Freshman, left Gettysburg supposedly to meet his father in Baltimore. Instead, he went to Hagerstown and married Miss Hazel Lee Stillwagon, of Conneville, the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. S. Simon, of Hagerstown. Mr. Floto has written to his friends at college that he will discontinue his studies and will live in Conneville.

HOFFMAN — BECKER.—Emory Hoffman of New Salem, and Miss Irene Becker of New Oxford, who lives with Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Zellers of West Manchester township, York county, were married at the home of the bridegroom's parents, in New Salem, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Fred S. Geesey of Spring Grove. Following the marriage a reception was held. Mr. Hoffman is employed at the York Carriage Works. For the present they will reside with his parents.

PITTENBURG — FUNT.—On Thursday evening, May 15, at the Lutheran parsonage, New Chester, Rev. E. E. Dietrich united in marriage Cetus Pittenburt and Miss Mary Funt, both of Heidlersburg.

RICE—DERR.—A quiet wedding occurred one and one-half miles north of Middletown, Frederick county, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel C. Derr, last Wednesday afternoon, when their daughter Miss Amy Magdalene Derr was married to the Rev. Elmer F. Rice, of Myersville, Md. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Roy V. Derr, a cousin of the bride and a classmate of the groom, assisted by the bride's pastor, Rev. J. W. Gentzler. Rev. Mr. Rice is a graduate of both college and seminary, being in the graduating class of two weeks ago from Seminary, and has accepted a call to the Jennerstown charge.

McKINLEY — HIMES.—Miss Helen Himes, daughter of Mrs. Kate Himes of New Oxford, and who has a host of friends in Gettysburg, and Dr. David McKinley of Louisville, Ky., were married on last Wednesday in Louisville. The news came as a great surprise to the many friends of the bride, who knew that she had gone on a visit to Kentucky some time ago.

Lightning Destroys Barn.

The large frame bank barn on the farm of William M. Arthur in Tyrone township, close to Belmont school house, and about two miles west of New Chester, was struck by lightning during the electrical storm Friday afternoon, May 16, and entirely consumed with most of its contents, also the hog pen, chicken house and other small buildings. Mr. Arthur with his two horse team had been working on the new state road being built in that section. J. B. Martin, who drives an East Berlin bakery wagon was in the act of driving into the building to get out of the storm's fury, when the bolt struck it, but he fortunately was not stunned, and helped in getting the four horses and mules in the stable out to safety. The automobile shed was partly burned but by knocking out the gable end the auto was gotten out. A new binder, mower and all other machinery, tools, harness, buggies, all in first-class order, hay, straw and grain, were burned. A corn crib with a small lot of corn that stood some distance away was saved. Mr. Arthur places his loss at about $3500 with $1000 insurance in the Mummasburg Company. Several eye witnesses state that the bolt struck the center of the barn, and that it was but a few seconds until the entire structure was in flames. Mr. Arthur will at once have a new barn erected on the site.

ARENDTSTVILLE.

The Decoration service held here last Saturday was largely attended. Prof. Roy D. Knouse delivered an excellent address appropriate for the occasion. Rev. D. T. Koser and Rev. T. C. Hesson each took part in the service. As usual the Sunday School the Sunday School children strewed the flowers.

Owing to the frequent rains during the last 8 or 10 days our farmers report their corn coming up well; the grain and grass fields also make a good appearance.

Miss Daisy V. Yohe is visiting her brother Wm. E. Yohe near Shippensburg.

Mrs. Eliza Lady is the guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram C. Lady in this place.

The present prospect is for a fair crop of peaches, quinces and cherries and all kinds of berries.

The grain and grass fields are looking well and farmers report their corn coming up well. P.

L. M. Buehler Successful.

After a great deal of effort and correspondence L. M. Buehler the popular druggist has succeeded in getting the Dr. Howard Co. to making special half price introductory offer on the regular fifty cent size of their celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia.

Dr. Howard's specific has been so remarkably successful in curing constipation, dyspepsia and all liver troubles, that L. M. Buehler is willing to return the price paid in every case where it does not give relief.

Headaches, coated tongue, dizziness, gas on stomach, specks before the eyes, constipation, and all forms of liver and stomach trouble are soon cured by this scientific medicine.

So great is the demand for this specific that L. M. Buehler has been able to secure only a limited supply, and every one who is troubled with dyspepsia, constipation or liver trouble should call upon him at once, or send 25 cents, and get sixty doses of the best medicine ever made, on this special half price offer with his personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure.

Advertisement.*Dr. Washinger Not Elected.

Friends of Rev. Wm. H. Washinger, D. D. of Chambersburg, Superintendent of the Pennsylvania United Brethren Conference worked energetically for him at the General Conference at Decatur, Ill. to elevate him to a bishopric, securing for him 59 votes but failing to elect.

Five bishops were elected by the United Brethren for United States, a proposition to elect ten bishops being defeated. All the bishops were elected on the first ballot, as follows: Bishop William Bell, Los Angeles; Bishop William M. Weekly, Kansas City; Bishop George M. Matthews, Chicago, were re-elected. Others elected were Rev. Dr. H. S. Fout, Dayton, Ohio, editor of Sunday School literature, and Rev. Dr. C. J. Kephart, pastor of First church, Dayton, Ohio, former president of Lebanon Valley College.

Rev. Dr. A. T. Howard, superintendent of mission work in Japan, was elected missionary bishop.

Much interest centered in the election of officers. Rev. Dr. W. R. Funk, Allegheny conference, who has served as publishing agent for 16 years, was re-elected; Rev. J. M. D. Phillips, Northern Illinois conference, was re-elected editor and Rev. Dr. C. I. Brane, East Pennsylvania conference, was re-elected associate editor of the Religious Telescope, and Rev. Dr. H. F. Shupe, Allegheny conference, was re-elected editor of Watchword. Rev. William O. Fries, Sandusky conference, who has been associate editor of Sunday-school literature, was elected editor to succeed Rev. Dr. H. H. Fout, who was elevated to the bishopric yesterday; Rev. John W. Owen, York, Pa., a member of the Pennsylvania conference, formerly pastor of Franklin Street Church, Baltimore, was elected associate editor of Sunday School literature; H. A. Downing, Los Angeles, secretary of the Southern California Sunday School Association was elected general secretary of the Sunday School Work to succeed Col. R. Cowden, who retired because of advanced age.

Office of County Superintendent of Schools*FINAL EXAMINATION.

The following is the list of pupils, arranged by rank, who were successful in reaching the required average in the 1913 Final Examination, and are accordingly entitled to receive the Common School Diploma:

Name.	School.	District.	Teacher.
Margaret Royer,	Quarry,	Highland	Carrie B. Warthen
Esta M. Bream,	Grammar,	Biglerville,	Carrie V. Benner
Chloe B. Asper,	Rock Chapel,	Huntington,	Edgar J. Smith
Anna M. Bosserman,	Excelsior,	Menallen,	J. Blaine Bushey
Orpheus Kauffman,	Bushey's,	Latimore,	J. Raymond Kauffman
Genevieve M. Spangler,	Quarry,	Highland,	Carrie B. Warthen
Viola M. S. Kapp,	Grammar,	Biglerville,	Carrie V. Benner
Milton S. Roth,	Centre Mills,	Butler,	J. Guyon Wierman
Katie T. Hufnagel,	Locust Grove,	Conewago,	Mrs. C. Clapsaddle
Herbert L. Seabrook,	Liberty Hall,	Liberty,	W. Preston Hull
Harry C. Wildasin,	Centre,	Union,	John M. Wisler
Luella O. Horner,	Horner's,	Mt. Joy,	Guy H. Sherman
Etta M. Kauffman,	Bushey's,	Latimore,	J. Raymond Kauffman
Lillian E. Walter,	Centre Mills,	Butler,	J. Guyon Wierman
E. Correne Deatrick,	Grammar,	Biglerville,	Carrie V. Benner
Esther R. Baugher,	Fairmount,	Menallen,	Mrs. Florence Michener
Louise E. Collins,	Two Taverns,	Mt. Joy,	Amos J. Collins
Claude B. Clunk,	Grammar,	McSherryst'n,	Frank H. Bream
Hazel M. Peterson,	Locust Grove,	Conewago,	Mrs. C. Clapsaddle
Anita C. Hershey,	Glenwood,	Highland,	Clara J. Spangler
Edith M. Weikert,	Glenwood,	Highland,	Clara J. Spangler
M. Regina Chrimer,	Mt. Vernon,	Mt. Pleasant,	Bernard A. Wagman
Lola M. Hartman,	Excelsior,	Menallen,	J. Blaine Bushey
Verna G. Bosserman,	Excelsior,	Menallen,	J. Blaine Bushey
Irene C. Todd,	Valley Grove,	Union,	William D. Sheely
Lloyd R. Hartman,	Independent,	Conewago Ind.,	Floyd E. Wolf
John M. Weikert,	Flohr's,	Franklin,	Alice A. Miller
Francis E. Goulden,	Lower Tract,	Liberty,	Chas. W. Carbaugh
Freda S. Dehoff,	Mt. Pleasant,	Germany,	F. Loy Lindaman
Myrtle E. Gobrecht,	Hartman's,	Hamilton,	Samuel E. Baker
Esta B. Beachtel,	Mt. Pleasant,	Conewago,	Mervin L. Myers
Helen M. Overholtzer,	Willow Grove,	Cumberland,	Mabel R. Bollinger
Mabert B. Hoffman,	Seven Hundred,	Hamilton,	Nettie B. Jacobs
E. Blanche Heiges,	Grammar,	Biglerville,	Carrie V. Benner
Franklin R. Mauss,	Bridge,	Butler,	Eva M. Boyer
Catherine M. Ulrich,	Mt. Vernon,	Germany,	Mary A. Harman
Florence E. Wallick,	Mt. Pleasant,	Germany,	F. Loy Lindaman
Nellie J. Trimmer,	Hampton,	Reading,	Roy E. Kraber
William W. Witherow,	Moritz's,	Freedom,	D. Hill Rock
Earl F. Neiderer,	Grammar,	McSherryst'n,	Frank H. Brame
Ruth E. Bair,	Mt. Pleasant,	Conewago,	Mervin L. Myers
Daisy Currens,	Mt. Hope,	Hamiltonban,	W. Hummelbaugh
Christian G. Brown,	Grammar,	Fairfield,	Isabel Snively
Fannie W. Arnold,	VanDyke's,	Franklin,	Calvin A. C. Cluck
Paul F. Foulk,	Sweet Home,	Mt. Pleasant,	John Z. Rudisill
Lester C. Hoover,	Independent,	Conewago Ind.,	Floyd E. Wolf
Chester C. Mumper,	Granite,	Cumberland,	Mrs. Mattie Howard
Clyde S. Dehoff,	High,	Littlestown,	Charles A. Fisher
Clyde L. Schwartz,	Pleasant Hill,	Union,	Harvey W. Schwartz
Hazel A. Watson,	Pine Hill,	Hamiltonban,	Ethel McCreary
Marguerite E. Schwartz,	Pleasant Hill,	Union,	Harvey W. Schwartz
Edgar Leister,	Felty's,	Union,	Arthur E. Bair

HIGHEST AVERAGES

1. Margaret Royer,	91.77	6. M. Genevieve Spangler,	87.44
2. Esta M. Bream,	91.00	7. Viola M. S. Kapp,	85.66
3. Chloe B. Asper,	88.77	8. Milton S. Roth,	85.55
4. Anna M. Bosserman,	87.88	9. Katie T. Hufnagel,	84.88
5. Orpheus Kauffman,	87.55	10. Herbert L. Seabrook,	84.88

Sincerely desiring the continued success of the boys and girls, I remain yours for the welfare of our schools.

H. MILTON ROTH,
Gettysburg, Pa., May 24, 1913. County Superintendent.

Church Boards Elected by Synod.

Members of the Mission Boards of the Lutheran church elected at the biennial convention of the General Synod, at Atchison, Kansas are as follows:

Foreign Missions.—Rev. Luther Kuhlman, Gettysburg; Rev. Ezra K. Bell, Baltimore; Rev. J. A. Singmaster, Gettysburg; Rev. J. S. Simon, Hagerstown, Md.; Rev. O. C. Roth, Chambersburg; Rev. I. C. Burke and Samuel F. Ziegler, Baltimore; and Charles A. Kunkel, Harrisburg.

Home Missions.—Rev. George W. Enders, York; Rev. J. A. Clutz, Gettysburg; Rev. J. Bradley Markward, Harrisburg; Rev. J. Elmer Battle, Inc. Hubner and L. Seartes Runyon, New York; A. H. Durborow, Pittsburgh; Harvey C. Miller, Philadelphia, and S. S. Nicholas, Washington, D. C.

A resolution fixing the minimum salary of each minister at $1000 a year, exclusive of a parsonage, was adopted. Each district synod will be required to take up this question at once.

A fight for "women's rights" was lost at Atchison, when the Woman's Foreign missionary society, hitherto only an auxiliary organization of the synod, made application for administrative powers commensurate with those of other church boards. In the heated discussion which followed leaders introduced passages from the New Testament to prove that men "are divinely appointed leaders of the church." The question was submitted to a vote and the missionary society's petition lost. The society's members announced that they would keep up the fight.

Akron, Ohio, was chosen next meeting place by the biennial convention. Akron won over Carlisle, Pa., and Los Angeles, Cal.

Big Catch of Trout.

There may be trout fishermen who troll our mountain streams and appreciate the fact that they have escaped the odor of fish on their hands, but there are others. Last week Vincent Martin, of Harrisburg with two friends C. Leidy and Earl Cover were at Gettysburg and in the streams in that neighborhood succeeded in catching 101 trout and they were a fine lot, averaging from 6 1/2 to 10 1/2 inches, the majority being about 9 inches. The streams about Gettysburg were the trout fishing grounds of a former generation of fishermen of this town and the fact that the sport of good trout fishing can still be had there will be gratifying to those interested in the sport.

Baltimore Excursion.

On Thursday, June 5, 1913, the Junior Epworth League of Hanover will run an excursion to Baltimore. Best season of the year to visit Baltimore. Nothing takes so well as a trip across the bay to Tolchester on a fine steamer: trolley every hour to Washington. Championship game of base ball between Baltimore and Jersey City. Train leaves Gettysburg 7.15 a. m. New Oxford 7.37 a. m., Hanover 7.53 a. m., Porters 8.04 a. m., stopping at intermediate stations to Hampstead. Returning leaves Hillen Station at 7 p. m.

Native Suicide.

J. Frank Lerew a native of Latimore township who moved from Bermudian to Harrisburg three years ago committed suicide by cutting his throat on Monday. He was dead when found. He had married the only daughter of Amos Kinter of near York Springs and had been going a pretty fast pace, spending and drinking. A mortgage was coming due this week and efforts were being made to have him see things different when he committed the act. He was 46 years of age and leaves a wife and three children.

WHAT IS A COLD in the head? Nothing to worry about if you treat it with Ely's Cream Balm. Neglected cold may grow into catarrh, and the air-passages be so inflamed that you have to fight for every breath. It is true that Ely's Cream Balm masters catarrh, promptly. But you know the old saying about the ounce of prevention. Therefore use Cream Balm when the cold in the head shows itself. All druggists, 50c, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

READ THE COMPILER

"Our Personal Guarantee to all Skin Sufferers"

We have been in business in this town for some time, and we are looking to build up trade by always advising our patrons' right.

So when we tell you that we have found the eczema remedy and that we stand back of it with the manufacturer's iron clad guarantee, backed by ourselves you can depend upon it that we give our advice not in order to sell a few bottles of medicine to skin sufferers, but because we know how it will help our business if we help our patrons.

We keep in stock and sell all the well known skin remedies. But we will say this: If you are suffering from any kind of skin trouble, eczema, psoriasis, rash or tetter, we want you to try a full size bottle of D. D. D. Prescription, and, if it does not do the work, this bottle will cost you nothing. You alone to judge.

Again and again we have seen how a few drops of this simple wash applied to the skin, takes away the itch, instantly. And the cures all seem to be permanent.

D. D. D. Prescription made by the D. D. D. Laboratories of Chicago, is composed of the glycerine, oil of wintergreen and other healing, soothing, cooling ingredients. And if you are just crazy with itch, you will feel soothed and cooled, the itch absolutely washed away the moment you applied this D. D. D.

We have made fast friends of more than one family by recommending this remedy to a skin sufferer here and there and we want you to try it now on our positive no-pay guarantee.

People's Drug Store.

"Make Us Prove It"

WHEN we say to you in an advertisement that we can, and we will, sell you better clothing for the money than you can get elsewhere, make us prove it; make us "show you."

When any dealer claims to give better values than some one else, make him show you what he will give you for a given sum, then come here and see the quality of the goods that we will give you for the same amount.

We can show you that our clothing, at our prices, is the best for you to buy, we expect to clothe you. On the other hand, if you can find anybody, anywhere, who will give you more actual value for your money, we expect you to get your clothes there.

LEWIS E. KIRSSIN

"THE UNDERPRICED STORE"

31 Baltimore St. Gettysburg, Pa.

Dougherty & Hartley

Fine Dress Goods for Spring and Summer. We name some of the popular

Summer Fabrics for this Season

Silk Striped Cotton Voils, New Cloth Poplins (Silk, Wool and Cotton) Ratine. Dress Linens colors & white, Wash Silks, Crepes, Flaxons, Persion Lawns, Etc., Etc. - - -

Summer Underwear--

In Knit and Muslin a large variety and the usual good VALUES for PRICES. We aim to give the best the market affords at POPULAR PRICES.

Woman's Neck Wear--

All the newest conceits at POPULAR PRICES.

Summer Hosiery--

Hosiery for Summer now in Silk, Lisle or Cotton only keep the best brands and guarantee satisfaction in wear (black & colors.)

Embroidery & Laces--

New Embroidery, New Flouncing, New Trimmings and Laces. Also our special all linen Lace at 5cts, all width from 1 to 4 inches.

Dougherty & Hartley

BELL PHONE INSTALLED—We have installed this phone for the convenience of our customers and friends who use same.

11 ADAMS COUNTY HARDWARE CO. Advertisement.

TENTS, coats, awnings and camp equipment to hire. Chas. L. Schaefer, 419 W. King St., Lancaster, Pa. Mfr. m 21-34 Advertisement.

DESIRABLE HOME FOR SALE

Five miles south of Gettysburg on road leading to Emmitsburg, Md. One and one-half story frame house with thirteen rooms, brick summer kitchen joined to dwelling by covered porch, never failing well of excellent water and large cistern, both on porch, one and one-half story frame building used for carriage house and storage, good stable. Buildings newly painted. Two chicken houses. Cement walks, 4.34 acres, lot in grass, apple, pear, peach and plum trees, possession given in the fall.

H. P. BIGHAM, Greenmount, Pa.

LEGISLATIVE CONDITIONS

DEMOCRATS TRYING TO MAKE MAJORITY GIVE REAL REFORM

The House Has Refused to Adjourn Until the Senate Gives Reform Bills a Square Deal.

Another effort—the fifth since March 1, to commit the House to a definite date for final adjournment failed this week and a resolution presented by Representative Malton, of Lawrence County, to adjourn sine die on Thursday, June 12th, was referred to the rules committee. The reactionaries of the House and Senate were much disappointed with this action, which means that the House declined to commit itself on adjournment until the Senate has taken action on the numerous progressive measures which have passed the lower body. Were the House to agree to a certain date for adjournment, there is a well grounded suspicion that many of the measures passed by that body would never come to passage in the Senate. As matters stand, the Senate will have to go on record, one way or another, on House bills before the House will consent to adjournment.

Senators have been hearing from the "folks back home" in no unobjectionable tones, and as a result some of the weak-kneed ones have braced up like men. Democrats and Progressives in the Senate have shown their power to control legislation in the interest of the public welfare when standing steadfast, and have wronged from Jim McNichol, the Philadelphia contractor-boss, who has heretofore run things in the Senate to suit himself, a grudging assent to the reporting out of committee of ten progressive election bills.

"Jim" wouldn't have permitted these bills to be reported out "as committed" if he could have helped himself, but he was forced to do it to save his face. Had he remained stubborn, the Democrats and Progressives would have demanded the discharge of the committee from further consideration of the bills, and placed them on the calendar in spite of McNichol. It will now be the effort of McNichol and those he controls to amend the bills so as to "pull out their teeth" and render them as inoffensive as possible to the Republican Machine.

No "Teeth" in Utilities.

That it is not so difficult a job as might be imagined to pull the wool over the eyes of well meaning but dull witted legislators and the "teeth" out of meritorious legislation at one and the same time has received ample demonstration in the work of the House on the Public Utilities Bill.

Originally there were three bills presented to the Legislature. One, introduced by Representative Samuel B. Scott of Philadelphia, framed by Dean Lewis of the University of Pennsylvania, purported to represent the ideas of the Progressive party. The administration, or Republican measure, supposed to embody the view of Governor Tener, was presented in the Senate. A Democratic bill, fulfilling the platform pledge of the Democratic party, and far more reaching and drastic in its provisions than either of the other two, was presented in the House by Representative Humes of Crawford county, the Democratic floor leader.

These three measures were referred to committee. There the Humes bill was practically ignored, and the Progressives were seemingly persuaded to surrender to the Administration, for the bill reported out is one framed by Attorney General Bell and following very closely the lines of the original Administration bill. The disappointing thing about the matter, from the public standpoint, is that the bill as reported is devoid of most essential features for the protection of the public interest and is seemingly framed with an eye more to the promotion of the welfare of public utilities corporations than the conservation of public interests or the assurance of adequate service. And strangely, practically every attempt to amend the bill in the interest of the whole people was voted down in the House by a combination of Republican and Progressives. The Democrats, with a small sprinkling of Progressives, made a valiant but unsuccessful effort to put "teeth" in a measure sadly lacking in these dental requisites.

Penrose is Progressive now, you know. Oh, yes! He appeared last week at Harrisburg and admitted it himself. He is for the direct election of United States Senators, honest elections, and all other reforms that he realizes are inevitable whether he is for them or not. At the same time he would like to insert a little joker here and there so the transition from the old order of things to the new won't be too sudden and precipitated. That is the way with the public utilities enthusiasts who voted against the Democratic amendments. They favor a public utilities all right but they want one with the accent on the utilities and not on the public. And they've got it in the toothless Bell-Tener-Lewis Bill.

Butchers Asked to Swat the Fly.

Dr. J. C. Marshall, State Veterinarian of the Pennsylvania Live Stock Sanitary Board, has sent the following letter to every butcher in the State:

It is important, with the approach of warm weather, that something be done to prevent flies in and about slaughter houses and places where meat is exposed for sale.

Manure, particularly horse manure, human feces, cow manure, such as the contents of paunches of slaughtered cattle and accumulation of organic refuse, and rubbish similar to that found around unsanitary slaughter houses, and markets afford the most favorable conditions for flies to breed.

The fly lays about one hundred and twenty eggs. There may be from twenty-eight to fourteen breeds annually. It is calculated that the progeny of a single female fly might be over 14,000, the guilty parties.

600,000,000,000 individuals at the end of the twelfth generation. The form and character of the fly's body and limbs is particularly adapted for carrying the infectious material. Since it breeds in fecal matter as has been shown, and feeds on even more dangerous material, such as is found in cesspools, privies, the carcasses of dead animals, decomposed meat and other equally germ laden material, the consequent facility for the spread of disease breeding germs is very apparent. It has been found that a single fly carried in its mouth and on its leg 100,000 fecal bacteria. The number of bacteria on a single fly may reach over 600,000.

It has been pointed out that filth breeds flies and flies breed death, and that the fly is far more dangerous than a wild beast roaming about for the reason of its enormous capacity for multiplication and silent mischief. The fly has been condemned because it carries typhoid, dysentery, tuberculosis, infantile diarrhoea, anthrax, smallpox, Asiatic cholera, ophthalmia and other dangerous diseases. It has recently been further condemned for spreading that dreaded disease infantile paralysis.

It is not then important for the Meat Hygiene Service of the State Livestock Sanitary Board to have the hearty cooperation of careful and tidy butchers and local Boards of Health in requiring the careless and slovenly butcher to keep his establishment and its surroundings clean so that there may be no place for this dangerous pest to breed? Is it not likewise high time for the butchers throughout the State to provide screens to protect the meats from contamination as has been done in a few localities? Your hearty cooperation in dealing with this important problem is earnestly requested.

Yours truly,
C. J. MARSHALL,
State Veterinarian.
Harrisburg, Pa., May 23 1913.

Urges More Curbs for Alien Insane.

Doubling of the number of medical inspectors at Ellis Island, the retaining of a force of interpreters and the increase of the amount of space set aside for examinations are urged by Dr. Geo. W. Stoner, chief medical officer of the investigating station, and a native of old Adams, as a means of keeping out the alien insane. Dr. Stoner, who is senior surgeon of the United States Public Health Service, maintains that the present medical officers have given a good account of themselves and that they have done excellent service for the State. He declares, however, that where there often are thousands of immigrants a day it is difficult for medical officers to detect subtle forms of insanity. His article on the subject in the current number of the New York Medical Journal is attracting much attention from alienists.

Most of the immigrants into this country pass through the United States immigration station at Ellis Island. With 3000 aliens arriving on ordinary days now and then 5000 on these busy days of spring such medical inspection as would eliminate the undesirable is impossible under present conditions. The consequence is that, after making all allowances and deduction, the federal health officials have to admit that 48 per cent. of the 32,000 insane in New York State hospitals are of foreign birth, though only 30 per cent. of our foreign population is foreign born. We hear often of the sturdy, healthy immigrants that come to us and of the weaklings that are left in Europe, but here is incontrovertible evidence that in mind at least those who come are far below our native population.

There is no doubt at all of the ability of our federal inspectors of immigration, but it is physically impossible for the present staff to do the work successfully and the number of medical inspectors at Ellis Island should be doubled and the accommodations for this service largely increased. Dr. Stoner maintains that many of the mental defectives who come to Ellis Island are of a type seldom seen in hospitals for the insane and are more difficult to detect on primary inspection than are some forms of insanity. The physician is also of the opinion that the three year limit should be abolished and that any defective immigrant should be returned without reference to the length of time he had resided in this country.—N. Y. Herald.

Gov. Tener Signs Church Laws.

Governor Tener has signed the Flynn Church and the Lowers Bible Reading Bills. The former was the cause of many meetings of protest throughout the State, one of which was held in Harrisburg; the other bill encountered the opposition of religious bodies. No comment accompanied the Governor's action. The Flynn Church Bill, which was contested vigorously in both houses and before Governor Tener after it had passed, provides that church property shall be held according to the canons and rules of the church. It also repeals a section of the act of 1907, which provides that no bishop or other ecclesiastic shall hold real estate with the capacity to transmit the title of it to his successor. The bill vests the title of Catholic Church property in the bishop instead of trustees of the Church. Under the terms of the Lowers bill ten verses of the Bible must be read without comment at the opening of each public school session by the teacher in charge. Teachers who fail to obey the law are subject to dismissal if charges are preferred and substantiated.

Petty Thieving.

The people of Virginia Mills and round about have been greatly annoyed by some petty thieving the past week. On Monday night the tenant of warm weather, that something be done to prevent flies in and about slaughter houses and places where meat is exposed for sale.

Attending Normal School.

The following Adams county young people are attending the spring term at Millersville State Normal School: Bender, Hilda G., McSherrystown; Bollinger, Clara H., Littlestown; Cashman, Sara, New Oxford; Diehl, Virgie, New Oxford; Harner, Sarah C., Littlestown; Knoose, Charity, Gettysburg; Kohler, Margaret E., New Oxford; Kready, May, Orrtanna; MacDowell, Helen, Littlestown; Moore, Clara, Orrtanna; March Anna E., East Berlin; Sites, Edna, Fairfield; Stonaker, Alma K., Fairfield; Todd, Mary Josephine, Littlestown; Warren, Argive, East Berlin; Weaver, Blanche, Gettysburg; Gruver, Elmer M., East Berlin; Kohler, Wm. L., New Oxford; Leib, Wilbert, East Berlin; Smith, Francis, Littlestown; Sneeringer, Harry J., New Oxford; Stavel, Lloyd L., Littlestown; Wagaman, Bernard A., Gettysburg.

Nelson and Red Tape.

When Nelson returned to England after he lost his eye he went to receive a year's pay as smart money, but could not obtain payment because he had neglected to bring a certificate from a surgeon that the sight was actually destroyed. A little irritated at this form should be insisted on, because, though the fact was not apparent, he thought it was sufficiently notorious, he procured a certificate at the same time for the loss of his arm, saying they might as well doubt one as the other. On his return to the office the clerk, finding it was only the annual pay of a captain, observed he thought it had been more. "Oh," replied Nelson, "this is only for an eye in a few days I shall come for an arm, and in a little longer, God knows, most probably for a leg."

Preaching and Practice.

In Gladstone Lady Dorothy Neville found a conversationist after her own heart. She sang his praises many times in her reminiscences, and once she told this anecdote of his methods of self protection at public gatherings: "I remember his talking about the safety of the times and how public men could now go unguarded everywhere, while he was sitting at a dinner table with two detectives provided by Scotland Yard in order to watch over him standing in the room, while another was upstairs ready to mix with the guests at the party which was afterward to be given. The Grand Old Man's two guardians at the dinner were dressed as footmen, one standing immediately behind his chair, while the other took up a position directly opposite on the other side of the table."

Enough Said.

The teacher in charge of one of the grades in a grammar school wrote on the board a number of words ending in the syllable "tion." After explaining the meaning of each to the class she told them to use the words in sentences. Her pupils wrote busily for a few moments, and then one of them astonished her with the following: "Father's hair is a recollection, mother's is an acquisition, auntie's is a compilation, sister's is an aggregation, brother's is a conflagration, while baby's is a mere premonition."—Magazine of Fun.

The Penalty of Politeness.

"I noticed, dear," said Mr. Markham to his wife, "you didn't say thank you" to the man who gave you his seat in the street car this evening." "No," replied Mrs. Markham; "you see, I once stopped to say thank you and by the time I had done so I found that another woman had the seat."—New York Post.

Presence of Mind.

Show Girl (bursting into manager's office)—Quick! There's a fire behind the scenes. The gang are rushing about like mad and screaming their heads off. Looks like a panic. What will we do? Manager—Do? Ring up the curtain, of course, and let the audience think it is the opening chorus.—Puck.

Noble Boy.

"You ate all your own cake and Ma bell's too, Tommie?" said the mother. "Yes'm," replied Tommie. "You'll be sick, child!" "Well, mother, you see if anybody was going to be sick I didn't want it to be Mabel."—Yonkers Statesman.

OUT OF THE GLOOM

Many a Gloomy Countenance in Gettysburg Now Lightens with Happiness

A bad back makes you gloomy. Can't be happy with continual backache.

The aches and pains of a bad back are frequently due to weak kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills are recommended for weak kidneys.

So grateful citizens testify.

Mrs. C. Culp, 423 Washington St., Gettysburg, Pa., says: "We still use Doan's Kidney Pills in our family and find them very good. A member of the family had an attack of kidney complaint after the measles and was left with weak kidneys. He also had backache and pains in his sides and whenever he lifted, he was in distress. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended and he gave them a trial. We never thought a medicine could give relief so quickly. I can recommend this preparation to anyone who is afflicted with kidney complaint."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Grossmith and Irving. Mr. Weeden Grossmith in "From Studio to Stage" tells how he very nearly spoiled his chances with Sir Henry Irving at the outset of his acting career. Mr. Grossmith in his studio days was in demand for his "imitations," and at the rehearsal of this play he was told that in his part of Jacques Strop he must "imitate" the gestures and so on of his master, Macaire.

I rushed at it, hit the table and gave them my regular, conventional back drawing room imitation of the great man himself. Joggling my head and waving my hands in the air, I shouted, "Hi, hi—er—er—landlord—er—why the devil—er—er—don't you bring—er—er—some—er—er—refreshment—er—for—myself and—er—er—er—" I never got any further. Fifty people on the stage collapsed, some with fear, others with laughter. Never had such a thing been known within the sacred walls of the Lyceum. The late Harry Lovejoy, the stage manager, turned pale with fright. The great chief glared at me for a moment with eyes dilated and then gave me a push, saying, "Stupid fellow!" He practically pushed me off the stage.

Enduring It Calmly.

In "The Fourth Generation," her volume of reminiscences of English social and literary life during the last century, Mrs. Janet Ross adds the name of Nassau W. Senior, the English economist, to the already long list of persons who consider music "a horrid noise that stops conversation."

Once at Rowood, Lord Lansdowne's place, Tom Moore had been prevailed upon to sing. All the party drew near to the piano save Mr. Senior, who sat at a small table and began to write with a quill pen on Lord Lansdowne's very ribbed paper. He was compiling an article on statistics or something of the sort.

Moore began, but he was so much worried by the persistent scratch, scratch, that he stopped to see who was making the odious noise.

Senior raised his head. "Oh, you don't disturb me, I assure you," he said innocently. "Pray, go on; I rather like it."

Insolence of Wealth.

A southern negro put up a sign on his place. "For Sale." He was ridiculed and changed it to "sell" and finally tried a third time, his sign reading "sell." It had not been up an hour when an old colored man came along and queried:

"Does you mean dat dis place an fur Sally? What yer gwine to giv' de place to Sally fur?"

"Am you findin' fault wid dat sign?" asked the other.

"Well, I doan' quite cotch on to de spellin'."

"You doan', eh? Has you got seben hundred dollahs to pay cash down fur dis place?"

"No, sah."

"Deu you pass on an' sbet up! May be I doan' spell just de same as you do, but I's got prospects of bandlin seben hundred dollahs, while you got boaf knees out to de weddah. Go long, ole man; yo' too fly on jorery!"

Weather Reduced to Prose.

The weather was once a picturesque and poetic thing. It came up in the night with a boom and a bang through the trees. It was a sort of mysticizing that asked no questions, but just swung a scepter. It was grand in "red sky at night the sailor's delight; red sky in the morning, sailors take warning." It was a wholesome lesson to proud man that he always had a master, and it made us more reverent toward nature and the Creator. There was such a difference in receiving our weather direct from heaven and receiving it by wire direct from Washington.—New York Mail.

Sounded Funny.

An individual of considerable importance, by name Tootle, once attended a reception, accompanied by his wife. The announcement was made, "Mr. Tootle!"

"And Mrs. Tootle," was suggested, sotto voce in corrective tones.

"And Mrs. Tootle, too!" resounded like the blast of a horn through the room, to the evident amusement of the large assembly.—London Answers.

Weighing the Baby.

"How many stamps will this baby take by parcel post?"

"It weighs fourteen pounds," announced the clerk. "The number of stamps required depends on where you want it to go."

"I don't want it to go anywhere," said the mother. "I just wanted to ascertain its weight."—Kansas City Journal.

Definition of Drunkenness.

The following definition of being drunk has been given by a member of a Melbourne police court, writes our Sydney correspondent:

"I go on drinking till I think I'm drunk. Then I drink more till I believe I am sober. Then I am sure that I am drunk."—London Mail.

Very Often the Case.

"All the average man wants is fair play," remarked the wise guy.

"Yes, but the trouble is he also wants to act as umpire," added the simple mug.—Philadelphia Record.

Good Excuse.

Housekeeper—Why do you charge so much for your ice?

Iceman—Well, mum, the water was high where we cut it.—Boston Transcript.

G. W. WEAVER &amp; SON

THE LEADERS IN

Porch Shades, Carpets, Rugs, Mattings, Curtains, etc.

You need Vudor Porch Shades to get the most out of your porch.

With Vudor Porch Shades you can add another room to the house, an out-of-door room, airy, cool and shady, where you can enjoy yourself on the hottest days in secluded comfort.

Another good feature about them is the peculiar fact that those sitting on the porch can see out, but passersby cannot see in.

We can have them made to order to fit your porch if standard sizes do not fit.

They are artistically stained in soft, pleasing Linseed Oil colors. These colors are weather-proof, and will not fade or crack off.

Vudor Shades can be instantly raised, or lowered as desired and are easily put up.

The only satisfactory shades are Vudor Shades. They throw the porch into cool, mellow shadow, exclude the sun's scorching beams, permit a circulation of air, are moderate in price and last for years. Vudor Porch Shades come completely equipped; nothing but a screwdriver is required to hang them.

Vudor

PORCH SHADES

[Not only make your porch Cool by Day but cool adjoining rooms, and give you by night a perfect Sleeping Porch.]

They Last for Years

Straw Hats

ECKERT'S STORE

"ON THE SQUARE"

GUERNSEY Hollow SILO

FIRE-PROOF—EVERLASTING—

Made of best Ohio Clay Vitrified and glazed to a smooth, hard dark even color. The tile are so thoroughly interlocked with heavy tile clamps and so heavily reinforced with cold, twisted steel the entire height of the Silo, that it will stand forever. It is the only Silo that is absolutely fire-proof, having the Hollow Tile doors. It is sold under an Iron Clad Guarantee.

For further information write for catalog to

SPEESE &amp; PFEFFER, Agent

Western Maryland Ry.

MARCH 16, 1913

Trains leave Gettysburg as follows

8.41 a. m., daily except Sunday, for Baltimore, Hanover, and York and all intermediate points.

10.08 a. m., daily for Fairfield, Hagerstown, Waynesboro, Chambersburg, Hancock, Cumberland, Elkins and all intermediate points.

12.55 p. m., daily except Sunday for Hanover, York and intermediate points.

3.15 p. m., daily for Baltimore, Hanover, York and all intermediate points.

5.58 p. m., daily, except Sunday, for B. & H. Div. points to Highfield also Hagerstown, Waynesboro, Chambersburg, Shippensburg, Hancock, Cumberland, Pittsburg and all points west.

8.45 p. m., Sundays only, for New Oxford, Hanover, York, Baltimore and intermediate points.

A. R. MERRICK, F. M. HOWELL, Gen. Supt. G. P. A.

WANTED—House to house salesmen to sell the Handsome, Easiest Running and Best constructed Vacuum Sweeper on the market today. We gave a good proposition. Address STANDARD NOVELTY WORKS, Duncannon, Penna.

Advertisement.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

Notice is hereby given that Sarah A. Althoff and Wm. J. Althoff, of Mt. Joy township, Adams county, Pa., have made an assignment to the undersigned in trust for the benefit of their creditors, and the said creditors are hereby required, within six months from the date hereof, to make proof of their claims in the manner provided by the Act of June 4th, 1901, or be barred from coming in upon the fund.

JACOB A. APPLER, Assignee.

WAVERLY

Gasolines

No Carbon Plenty of Power Save trouble and expense. They're true Quality, not crude, compressed gas.

FREE—320 page book—all about oil. WAVERLY OIL WORKS CO.

Pittsburgh, Pa. LAMP OILS 17 CENTS

Christian Merchandising.

When you go to Hammer's store, you get no stamps, no guesses, drawings or tickets, but you get a 25c collar pad for 25c, 10 cents to put in your pocket, without any lottery tricks.

We have just received 100 yds. fancy Lancashire ginghams, 1000 yds. other 5 cent ginghams, 1000 yds. men's everyday shirtings, 500 yds. 50 in. muslins, can go at 6 cents a yard. We have fine young Flemish Giants Rabbits, good eating the whole year, their flesh equals Pheasant meat. Don't send $5.75 to the city for rabbits that will not match ours at 50 cents each. 1000 Edison New Records $3.00 per dozen no less sold.

S. S. W. HAMMERS.

Advertisement.

OLD DR. THEEL &amp; DR. W. L. THEEL

1719 Spring Garden St., (formerly 555 N. 6th St., Phila., Pa.) Ein Dr. Theel's Art, Only German Specialist. The German Treatment, the only Guaranteed Cure for Specific Blood Poison, others can't cure, all use Mercury & Arsenic, worse than the Disease itself. It's a curse of humanity. All Skin & Private Diseases, Eczema, both sex, Syphilis, Gonorrhea, Sore Throat, Lost Manhood, Dropsy, Atrophy, Piles, Leucorrhea, Tardiness, Hydrocele, Hemorrhoids, no eating, Kidney, Bladder, 46 yrs. practice 26 yrs. Hosp. 23 yrs. in Germany. Ref. Free, 1011 1/2, Spring Garden, City & Country Advertising Trade, Rev. 24-2, 6-24, 2-24, 2-24.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

DEATH OF GEN. L. L. LOMAX

ONE OF THE GETTYSBURG NATIONAL PARK COMMISSION.

Death Follows the Shock from a Fall Resulting in a Fractured Hip.

GEN. L. L. LOMAX.

GEN. LINDSAY LUNSFORD LOMAX, Confederate officer of the Civil War, died at Providence Hospital, Washington, D. C., on last Wednesday morning, May 28. He was 78 years old. Gen. Lomax was taken to the hospital about two weeks ago with a fractured hip, the result of a fall while visiting his daughter in Warrenton. Owing to his age and the shock, his condition was critical. The General was the oldest surviving major general of the cavalry of the Confederacy at the time of his death. He was one of the three commissioners of the Gettysburg National Park and the oldest graduate of West Point Military Academy. During the Civil War he was unusually prominent, is said to have been one of the most trusted associates of Gen. R. E. Lee, and to have carried out many of the most effective military operations of that noted commander.

General Lomax was born at Newport, R. I., November 4, 1835, the son of Maj. Mann Page and Elizabeth (Lindsay) Lomax. He was educated in the schools of Norfolk, Va., and was graduated from West Point in 1856.

He served in the United States army as first lieutenant of cavalry from 1856 to 1861 and resigned April 22, 1861, to enter the service of the Confederacy. He was unusually conspicuous in the service, and attained the rank of major general, commanding the division of cavalry in the Army of Virginia.

He married Elizabeth Winter Payne, February 20, 1873. He is survived by her and by two daughters, Mrs. Waddy B. Wood and Miss Anne Lomax. The funeral was held at his old home in Warrenton, Va.

Mrs. LYDIA ANN THOMAS, wife of Isaac C. Thomas, died at her home along the Berlin road, in Hamilton township, on Tuesday of last week after a lingering illness from cancer of the stomach, aged 76 years, 10 months and 18 days. She was the mother of 17 children, eight of whom survive, besides her husband, as follows: J. Albert, near Hampton, Edw. A. near Lancaster, Francis M. York, Augustus, Reading township, Mrs. Peter Pessing, York, Mrs. Joseph Peterman, Newton, and Clara at home. Two sisters and one brother also survive, Mrs. Margaret Oyler and Mrs. Francis Berry of Hampton, and Israel Chronister of Illinois. Funeral was on Saturday, interment in Paradise Cemetery after a high mass of requiem in Sacred Heart Church, Rev. Fr. Brophy officiating.

Mrs. ELIZABETH TREIBER SELL, widow of the late William A. Sell, died at the home of her son, Clayton in Hanover on Wednesday, May 28th. Her age was 64 years, 9 months and 23 days. She is survived by two sons, Henry A. Sell of Biglerville, and Clayton W. Sell of Hanover; also by two brothers and one sister, Henry Treiber of Hanover, and Peter Treiber of Richmond, Indiana, and Mrs. Sevilla Myers of East Berlin. Funeral on Saturday, May 31st, brief services at the house and further services at Christ Church, near Littlestown, Rev. Dr. F. S. Lindaman and Rev. A. M. Helfman officiating.

Rev. JAMES McDERMOTT died on Saturday, Dec. 24, at the home of his parents at Danbury, Conn. He was 42 years old. Rev. Fr. McDermott was well known, having been assistant at Cowwago Chapel about 12 years ago. He had been in poor health for some time.

Mrs. MARY ANN YOHE, wife of Geo. B. Yohe, died from heart trouble at her late home in Hanover, Wednesday May 28, after an illness of one week, aged 82 years, 9 months and 25 days. She was a daughter of the late Henry and Elizabeth Stock, of Hamilton township, and was married to Mr. Yohe Feb. 7, 1845. About 23 years ago the family moved to Hanover. Mrs. Yohe is survived by her husband and two daughters, Mrs. Chas. Five of York, and Mrs. Howard G. Becker at home; also one brother, Henry Stock of New Oxford. There are five grandchildren and three great grandchildren. Funeral on Saturday, May 31. After brief services at the house further services were held in St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Rev. Geo. W. Nicely, the pastor, and Rev. S. P. Mauser, of Grace Reformed Church officiating. Interment in Mt. Olivet Cemetery, Hanover.

Miss LORNA KRAUTH died at her home in Oakland, Cal., on Sunday, May 19, after much suffering and being confined to her bed for eight weeks.

from dropsy. She was aged 88 years and formerly lived in East Berlin, removing from here to the far west some forty years ago. Her sister died at the same place thirteen months ago.

SHAPHAN R. BEARD died Saturday, May 24, at the home of his father, Geo. F. Beard, in Waynesboro, aged 53 years, 8 months and 29 days. He had been ill for more than a year and ever since Christmas his condition was such that his death was expected at any time. He was born August 27, 1859, at Fountaldale, this county, the son of Geo. F. and Katherine Beard. At the age of 13 years he went to Waynesboro and secured employment as an apprentice in the machine shop of Frick Co. He remained there for several years and then left Waynesboro and secured work in other towns. For twenty-one years he was superintendent of an ice plant at Owensboro, Ky. Three years ago he gave up this position to accept a post as erecting engineer for Frick Co. He remained with Frick Co. until a year ago, when he was compelled to give up work on account of his failing health. He was a skilled workman and always won the approbation of people by whom he was engaged. He leaves a widow and two sons, a father, stepmother and three sisters.

EDWARD REED died at the home of his niece, Mrs. Geo. H. Day in York Springs yesterday morning, aged 62 years.

Mrs. SEARIGHT HENKEL, nee Shrad, died on last Saturday morning, May 31, at her home in East Berlin, of cancer. She suffered much since last September. Her age was 59 years, 6 months and 19 days. The funeral took place Tuesday morning, services by Rev. F. C. Sternat, interment in Union Cemetery, East Berlin. She leaves besides her husband, one son, John, in Florida, and two daughters at home. She is survived by her aged father and mother at Latimore, who were unable to attend the funeral, four brothers and two sisters, John Shrad of North Dakota, George of Maryland, Charles of York, Albert of Baltimore, Mary and Elberta of Harrisburg.

WM. PITTINGER died in York on May 23 of heart trouble, aged 65 years and 1 month. The interment was made at Woodsboro, Md., where he had formerly lived. Six sons acted as pallbearers. He leaves besides his wife, 12 children, one of the sons, Wm. Pittinger, living in Littlestown, Harry, Thomas, Bradley, George, John and Elmer at York, Mrs. Ernest Boone of Frederick county, Md., Mrs. Ernest Fuller, Mrs. J. A. Naylor and Miss Susie of York.

JOHN W. DEHART died at his home in Harrisburg on last Wednesday of Brights disease aged about 63 years. The deceased is survived by his wife, nee Annie Zieglar, formerly of York Springs, and six sons.

Resolutions.

At a regular meeting of Battlefield Council No. 717, O. of I. A., Monday evening, May 26, 1913, the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, The Almighty in his infinite wisdom has called home our friend and brother, Jacob Kitzmiller, and

Whereas, In view of the loss that our Council has sustained, be it therefore

Resolved, That it is but a simple duty, an act of justice to the memory of our deceased brother to say that in untimely death this Council has lost one of its most valuable members, a member who was respected by all who knew him.

Resolved, That to the bereaved family we extend our sincere sympathy and refer them for consolation to the Great Councilor who doeth all things well. Be it further

Resolved, That as a mark of respect to the memory of our deceased brother we drape our Charter in mourning for 30 days, and that these resolutions be spread upon our minutes and printed in "The Gettysburg Times," the "Gettysburg Compiler," and the "Star and Sentinel," and a copy of same be sent to the bereaved family.

C. B. Kitzmiller,

J. E. McDonnell,

J. Louis Sowers,

Committee.

Pa. R. R. Gettysburg Book.

"Gettysburg" is the title of another attractive book which has just been issued by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, copies of which came to town last week.

The book includes a complete story of the Battle of Gettysburg and description of the historic field as it is on the fiftieth anniversary. It is illustrated with pictures of all the prominent places in and about Gettysburg, showing the historic buildings and monuments, and has a colored map of the battlefield that includes every point where there was a battery, cavalry or infantry company located. It also shows where the veterans will be encamped and the various locations of headquarters. The book has a cover in colors, showing a reproduction of the famous Rothermel painting which hangs at the Capitol.

Paint?

There are two good reasons for painting often-enough or even too often. One, to look prosperous; two, to be so. Nothing does one more credit or gives one more credit than paint, supplemented of course by what goes with it; and paint costs nothing.

True, the first cost is $5 or $6 a gallon put on; but it saves more than that in the property, saves it from slow going down—not always slow—it drops with a jump when water gets in on wood and iron.

Dry wood and iron cost nothing, kept dry by paint.

Better paint when it needs it. Paint never goes down in the sense of being more profitable next year.

DEVOR.

T. J. Winebrenner sells it.

School Commencements.

Last Thursday, May 29th witnessed the closing of the public schools of the town with two commencements, one of the Grammar Schools at the Meade Building during the afternoon, and the High School Commencement at Brum Chapel in the evening.

Forty four pupils received diplomas at the exercises at Meade Building. Prof. W. A. Burzoon presenting the same after an address by County Superintendent H. Milton Roth. Those receiving the diplomas were:

Ruth Bender, Mae Biddle, Pauline Blair, Rhoda Bowers, Henry Bream, Wilbur Gieselman, Bessie Kelly, Lillian Kitzmiller, Mazie Krout, Isidor Lestz, John Lippy, Nellie Mehriog, Marguerite Meuchey, Anna Miller, Charles Miller, Percy Miller, Harold Mumper, Roy Muendorff, Gladys Ott, Herbert Oyler, Virginia Oyler, Fred Pfeffer, Ida Sheads, Ralph Sover, William Tammus, William Walker, Edgar Weaver, William Weaver, Edna Zinkand, William Zinkand, Genevieve Power, Ruth Wible, Huber Blocher, Justine Hartley, Ella Hillman, Thomas Hummelbaugh, Elsie Little, Robert Mishler, Marian Plank, Ruth Radenberger, Edith Sheely, Ethel Zinkand Mary Grinder, Mindele Grander.

The Grammar School exercises consisted of songs, recitations, a violin solo. The prize winning essays in the Y. W. C. T. U. on "The Cigarette Habit" were read by the winners. Edith Sheely and Constance Weaver. Books were presented by Miss Rummel and Miss Benner to the two pupils in their respective rooms having the best average. Anna Miller and Roy Muendorff winning in Miss Rummel's school and Edith Sheely and Ruth Spaulzer in Miss Benner's. Lillian Kitzmiller won the spelling prize in Miss Rummel's school. The display of art and sewing work attracted much interest and was highly creditable to the pupils in Meade Building.

High School Commencement.

Brum Chapel was tastefully decorated with the class colors, pennants, and pin. peonies, honeysuckle vines, palms and ferns. The exercises opened with invocation by Rev. J. Charles Gardner, pastor of the U. B. Church. The salutatory was by Mae Belle Little taking as her subject "The Best Use of a Great Gift" and applied the subject to the gift of the Kurtz playground, which she suggested to be called Kurtz Park and urged its maintenance by the people of the town. The oration of Claire Sowers followed on "Great Discoveries Science is Seeking," the prize essay of Emily McDonnell on "The Conway Cabal" was next read by the winner, being the first prize offered by Gettysburg Chapter D. A. R. A chorus composed of scholars and alumni sang two numbers and this was followed by the class prophecy in form of wireless telegrams, read by Carrie Miller and Eva Walter. Dr. G. W. Meininger of Lancaster made an address to the graduating class, speaking for a half hour, taking as his subject "Forces that Win." The presentation of gifts were cleverly handled by Minerva Taughinbaugh and Arthur Hutchinson, and the gifts greatly amused the audience, consisting of a hobby horse, parrot, dog, cat, hobble skirt, a real man, high hat, sour krout, rattles, esp and bells, bottle of Mellon's Food, powder and mirror, bomb. Seven Stars, cau, tie monacle and other articles.

County Superintendent H. Milton Roth presented the diplomas to the graduating class of 19 members, 18 girls and 6 boys, as follows.

Wilford Barbeheon, Frieda Grant Buehler, Esther Diehl Crouse, Edith Maria Deardorff, Lillab Ellen Galbraith, Arthur E. Hutchinson, Margaret Virginia Kandlehart, Mae Belle Little, Carrie Pfeiffer Miller, Ella Eugenia O'Hara, Nellie Ruth Robinson, Lawrence Miller Sheads, Marjorie Louise Sheads, J. Claire Sowers, Wilbur James Stallsmith, Minerva Irene Taughinbaugh, George Cornwell Taylor, Eva Belle Walters, Louise Mae Weaver.

Mrs. Walter H. O'Neal, regent of the D. A. R., presented the first prize of $5 for essay to Emily McDonnell and second prize of $2.50 to Helen Musselman, with honorable mention to Margaret Williams and Mae Belle Little. The Alumni prize of $5 for the highest rank in the class was presented by John Brocher to Louise Sheads and second prize of $3 to Mae Belle Little. The spelling prize of $3 by faculty was presented by Prof. Burzoon to Albus Kittinger. The prize essay of the "Times" of $10 and $5 to Helen Musselman and Mae Belle Little were also announced.

The exercises concluded with the valedictory, by Louise Sheads prefaced with an oration on "Fifty Years in Gettysburg." Rev. Gardner closed with benediction. The Citizens Band furnished the music.

On last Wednesday afternoon the senior class of the Gettysburg high school presented to the school, as its parting gift before graduation, a large and beautifully framed copy print of E. A. Abbey's "The Maidens." The picture is one of a series of the Boston library, and makes the third of that series to be given to the Gettysburg school. The speech of presentation was made by Claire Sowers, president of the class, and Prof. W. A. Burzoon, principal, received it for the faculty. The picture was purchased with the proceeds of the senior play given several months ago.

Wilson Hits Lobby.

President Wilson issued the following statement last week in which he gave the lobby working against the tariff bill a body blow, which scared many lobbyists out of Washington.

"I think that the public ought to know the extraordinary exertions being made by the lobby in Washington to gain recognition for certain alterations of the tariff bill. Washington has seldom seen so numerous, so industrious, or so insidious a lobby. The newspapers are being filled with paid advertisements calculated to mislead the judgment of public men not only, but also the public opinion of the country itself. There is every evidence that money without limit is being spent to sustain this lobby, and to create an appearance of a pressure of public opinion antagonistic to some of the chief items of the tariff bill.

"It is of serious interest to the country that the people at large should have no lobby and be voiceless in these matters, while great bodies of astute men seek to create an artificial opinion and to overcome the interests of the public for their private profit. It is thoroughly worth the while of the people of this country to take knowledge of this matter. Only public opinion can check and destroy it.

"The government in all its branches ought to be relieved from this intolerable burden and this constant interruption to the calm progress of debate. I know that in this I am speaking for the members of the two houses, who would rejoice as much as I would to be released from this unbearable situation."

District S. S. Convention.

Following is the program of the 3rd District Sunday School convention to be held at Grace church, Two Taverns, on June 14-15, 1913:

SATURDAY EVENING, 7:30 P. M.

Song services.

Devotional Exercises, Rev. M. L. Rudisill.

Illustrated Lecture, "Book of Esther," Dr. T. C. Bilheimer.

Offering.

Adjournment.

SUNDAY MORNING, 9 A. M.

Praise service.

Scripture reading and prayer, P. W. Epley.

Music.

Conference period.

Roll call of schools and reports.

Address, "Respect for Parents and Age," Rev. I. M. Lau.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON, 2 P. M.

Music.

Prayer, Rev. J. J. Hill.

Music.

Address, "Organization for Results," E. P. Miller.

Music.

Address, "Religious Rheumatism," Rev. J. B. Baker.

Adjournment.

SUNDAY EVENING, 7:30 P. M.

Devotional services, Wm. C. Day.

Music.

Address "New Demands upon the Sunday School," Rev. E. Stockslager.

Music.

Address, "The Church Members Duty to the Sunday School," Rev. F. S. Lindaman.

Adjournment.

Gettysburg—A Stop Over Point.

Some months ago the Gettysburg Board of Trade took up with the railroads the subject of making Gettysburg a stop-over point, which means that all parts of the country would be offered a ticket with Gettysburg included with privilege of a ten day stop off here. This privilege is only accorded large cities and national excursion points like Niagara. The officials of the Board of Trade called attention to the fact that Gettysburg peculiarly answered every requirement to be accorded such a privilege and urged that it be granted and also suggested to W. M. R. R. officials the wisdom of a through train service from Pittsburg and the West by way of Gettysburg either to Baltimore, or to New York by the Reading by connection at Gettysburg. There is no reason why the two railroads at Gettysburg should not unite in such a through service with a stop off at Gettysburg, which undoubtedly would result in a large portion of long distance traffic availing itself of the advantage of seeing Gettysburg.

While such a train service has not yet been consummated the stop off privilege has been granted as the following letter indicates.

Mr. Robert C. Miller,
Sec. Board of Trade,
Gettysburg, Pa.

Dear Sir: You are no doubt familiar with the fact that stop over is allowed for 10 days at Philadelphia, Washington and Pittsburg, on all tickets.

I am advised by Mr. Edson J. Weeks, General Passenger Agent, that he has arranged for same stop over privilege at Gettysburg, effective June 25, and that this will be a permanent arrangement. This information will go out practically to all the railroads in the United States, and will give Gettysburg considerable additional publicity, and be the means of having many more strangers visit your city.

Yours truly,
D. L. MAUGER,
Dist. Passenger Agent.

Throng of Buyers Continue.

The people of Gettysburg and vicinity appreciate the great advantage L. M. Buehler obtained for them, in getting the Dr. Howard Co. to allow regular 50 cent size of Dr. Howard's specific, for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia, to be sold at half price, 25 cents, and have bought hundreds of bottles.

Unlike ordinary medicines for constipation and dyspepsia, the dose of Dr. Howard's specific is reduced after a few day's use, and the cure is soon completed and lasting.

If you have not already taken advantage of this chance to get a month's medical treatment for 25 cents, be sure to call at L. M. Buehler's today, for he has only a small amount of the specific on hand.

The terms will be twenty per cent. cash on the day of sale and the balance on Sept. 1st, 1913, when deed and possession of the property will be given the purchaser.

A. L. WAGERMAN, Assignee.

Advertisement.

Work at Federal Building Delayed.

Why is work delayed on the Federal Building is the question many of our people are asking. It is about a month since work ceased. Over two weeks ago a trustee was appointed in bankruptcy for the contractor, A. B. Stannard, and the Court made an order authorizing the trustees to go ahead and complete the buildings under contract. Why does the trustee delay, or why is he not compelled to proceed? It has been stated by those best qualified to speak about the work here that not more than five weeks' work on the building would finish it and a day and night force could easily finish the building in time for use at the celebration. It was intended to be ready for that occasion. It is absolutely needed by the public both for post office facilities and exhibition of the Battle-field Park Commission work. The delay looks suspicious in view of the fact that D. F. Lefean was one of a party of inspection in April, five months after he had been defeated, when he had no official standing or at least should have had no official recognition from hold-over Republican office holders for such recognition belonged to his successor.

—The senior class of Morgan College of Baltimore were entertained by Rev. W. O. Lylee at his home on Decoration Day.

PUBLIC SALE

OF REAL ESTATE

On Saturday, the 28th day of June, 1913, the undersigned Assignee in trust for the benefit of the creditors of J. T. Wagerman and wife, of Conowago township, Adams county, by virtue of an order of the Court of Common Pleas of Adams county, will offer at public sale on the premises, a tract of land situate in Mt. Joy township, Adams county, Pa., fronting on the Gettysburg turnpike, adjoining lands of Lydia Stockslager, T. O. Collins and containing 86 perches, improved with a two-story frame dwelling house 24 x26 ft., with two-story back building, frame barn, hog pen, smoke house, good well of water, cistern and the usual out buildings.

The terms will be twenty per cent. cash on the day of sale and the balance on Sept. 1st, 1913, when deed and possession of the property will be given the purchaser.

A. L. WAGERMAN, Assignee.

RUNK & PECKMAN'S REALTY REPORT

DON'T FORGET WE WANT TO LIST A NUMBER OF GOOD FARMS. WE KNOW OF AT LEAST TWENTY BUYERS WHO ARE WAITING FOR US TO LIST SOMETHING WHICH WILL SUIT THEM IN PRICE AND LOCATION. IF YOU WANT TO SELL YOU MUST REACH THE BUYERS. YOU CAN DO SO BY PLACING YOUR PROPERTY ON OUR LIST. MAKE THE PRICE IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE INCOME. WE WILL DO THE REST.

Country Home Five miles from Gettysburg on the Emmitsburg Road—Frame house with 13 rooms. Brick summer kitchen joined to dwelling by covered porch. Also 1.12 story frame building used for carriage house and storage. Good stable, buildings newly painted. 2 poultry houses. Cement walks—4 3/4 acres land. Apple, peach, pear and plum trees. Possession this Fall. This is the H. P. Bigham property in Greenmount. The price is right.

We have recently listed a number of fine farms. We don't advertise all the farms on our list. Oftimes owners ask us not to advertise. While we think it is better to advertise we respect their wishes in the matter. You can always learn something new by calling at our office.

FRANK R PECKMAN

OFFICE IN MASONIC BUILDING

GETTYSBURG, PA.

G. C. FISSEL, Associate

Hot Weather Needfuls

Screen Doors and Window Screens—

Protect your house from flies. They are unsanitary, a menace to the health of yourself and family. For a very little money you can screen all your windows and doors and be thoroughly protected from these pests.

Water Coolers—

We have all sizes of Water Coolers, thoroughly sanitary. Prices low.

Ice Cream Freezers—

You can save money by making your ice cream at home. Purchase one of our White Mountain Freezers and try it. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. We also have some cheaper lines.

Table Ware and Toilet Ware—

We have a big lot of White Ware to go at low prices, plates, cups and saucers, vegetable dishes, etc. Also a full line of Toilet Ware. Get what you need now. You may not be able to get it later.

Groceries, Groceries—

It would be wise to give your order for your Anniversary needs early. Many of our customers are doing it already. Come and see us, we can quote you attractive prices.

We give S. & H. Green Trading Stamps.

GETTYSBURG DEPARTMENT STORE

Professional Cards

J. Donald Swope
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. GETTYSBURG, PA.
Office Crawford Building, Balto. St.

Chas. B. Stouffer, D.D.S.
DENTIST. GETTYSBURG, PA.
Office Second Floor of Star and Sentinel Building, Balto. St.

John D. Keith
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. GETTYSBURG, PA.
Office First National Bank Building, Centre Square.

S. S. Neely
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. GETTYSBURG, PA.
Office in Star and Sentinel Building, 2nd door, Balto. St., over Cash Store.

Charles E. Stahle
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. GETTYSBURG, PA.
Office in First National Bank Building, Centre Square. All legal business entrusted to him will receive prompt and careful attention.

Wm. McSherry, Jr.
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. GETTYSBURG, PA.
Will carefully and promptly attend to all legal business entrusted to him. Office at Balto. St., opposite the Court House.

Donald P. McPherson
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. GETTYSBURG, PA.
Office second floor of Star and Sentinel Building, Baltimore street. Will promptly attend to all legal business entrusted to him.

Wm. McClean Wm. Arch. McClean
ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW. GETTYSBURG, PA.
Late Pres. Judge. Law offices in Compiler Building, Balto. more street, above Court House on opposite side of street.

J. L. Williams
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. GETTYSBURG, PA.
Collections and all legal business promptly attended to. Office in First National Bank Building, Centre Square.

Wm. Hersh
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. GETTYSBURG, PA.
Will carefully and promptly attend to all legal business entrusted to him. Office opposite the Court House.

J. L. Butt
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. GETTYSBURG, PA.
Collections and all legal business promptly attended to. Office in First National Bank Building, Centre Square.

NOTICE.

In the estate of Henry Herring, late of Hamilton township, Adams County, Pa., deceased, the first and all parties in interest, will take notice that in pursuance of an order of the Orphan's Court of Adams County a writ of partition has been issued from said court to the sheriff of said county, returnable the first day of August Term 1913, and that the inquest will meet for the purpose of making partition of the real estate of said decedent, on Tuesday the 13 day of July 1913 at 2 o'clock P. M. at the Court House in Hamilton township, adjoining lands of Samuel Rentsch, Michael Herring, William Herring and N. H. Musselman; the other two thirds is owned by Catherine Herring, widow of George Herring, and her son Harvey.

WILSON'S REMEDY

EFFICIENT IN
BRONCHITIS, CONSUMPTION, ASTHMA,
CATARRH, GRIPPE, STUBBORN COUGHS, ETC.

From a Minister in New York: "I was severely ill with lung trouble. My attention was directed to the Wilson Remedy which I used with splendid effect."

From a lady in Michigan: "I used your medicine first 43 or 44 years ago and it saved me from ending my days with consumption. There would be no use of so many people dying with consumption if they could be persuaded to try Wilson's Remedy."

If you are suffering from ANY lung or throat trouble it is your duty to investigate. Send for free full information to:
Wilson's Remedy, Westwood, N. J.

Constipation

"For many years I was troubled, in spite of all so-called remedies used. At last I found quick relief and cure in those mild, yet thorough and really wonderful"

DR. KING'S New Life Pills

Adolph Schingel, Buffalo, N. Y.
25 CENTS PER BOTTLE AT ALL DRUGGISTS.

H. B. Bender,

UNDERTAKER AND EMBALMER,
Gives first class service. All calls promptly answered either day or night.

TELEPHONE
HOUSE NO. 1902 STORE NO. 91

GETTYSBURG MARBLE &amp; GRANITE WORKS

NORTH OF READING FREIGHT DEPOT.

We can furnish anything desirable in the Monumental line. Monuments, Headstones, Markers, Posts, etc., in Granite and Marble of the best material finely finished and at reasonable prices. It will be to the advantage of those contemplating the erection of a memorial to departed friends, to call and examine our stock, workmanship and prices before placing an order.

L. H. MEALS PROP.

FRIDAY, MAY 23, 1913. I will sell at my farm in Hamilton township, formerly the Putner farm, on the road leading from the Fairfied road to Nary's mill, 1 mile from Orrtanna, 1200 bushels of corn in the ear. Sale to begin at 1.30 p. m. Six months credit on sums over $5.00.
C. J. DEARDORFF.

YEAR BOOK of Stark Bro's Nurseries &amp; Orchards Co. MAILED TO YOU FREE

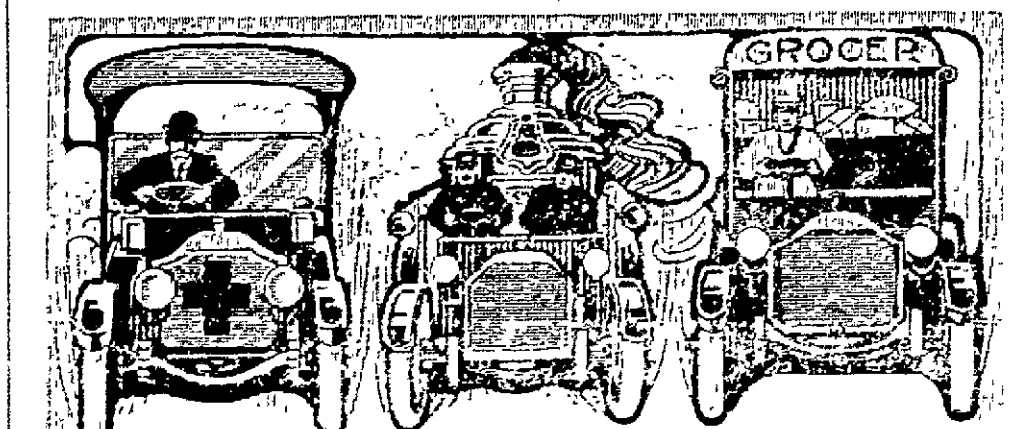

Just say on a Postal Card: "Send me a copy of Stark Year Book for 1913." When writing, also tell us how many trees, shrubs, vines, etc., you will probably plant this season.

This Year Book is more than a mere catalogue of Stark nursery products, it is a practical, easy to understand textbook for the guidance of the man who plants trees. Our own experience of nearly 100 years, the reports of experiment stations and the opinions of planters from all sections are condensed and reproduced for the benefit of busy people. An encyclopedia of orchard information, containing full size color illustrations of gloriously tinted fruits and many photographic reproductions in black and white; also information on many subjects in which the orchardist is interested.

Hundreds of varieties of apples, pears, peach, plum, cherry, apricot, quince, grape and all small fruits are described; weaknesses of each variety are pointed out and good points are explained. We feel that planters should know both.

Those interested in growing fruits or flowers or shrubs or shade trees will find this book of inestimable value; totally different from the average nurseryman's publications. It is a book you will keep for reference, and one on which you can depend as being absolutely accurate. Write today for your copy.

STARK BRO'S Nurseries & Orchards Co.
LOUISIANA, MO.

The Bell Telephone "Brings Them Running"

In times of peril or less urgent need, the briefest message by Bell Telephone gets action—gets results, regardless of the issue or your requirement of the moment.

Any hour, any day, the necessity may arise when you'll regret that you have so long neglected to order a Bell Telephone.

Call the Business Office, without charge, from the nearest telephone.

JOHN O. BEAM, Local Manager
BELL TELEPHONE CO. OF PENNSYLVANIA YORK, PENNA.

Raymond's Automobile Kitchen

Food Quality
Good Cooking
Clean Nappery
New Furnishings

Prompt—Intelligent and Courteous Service
at Popular Prices

PERMIT US TO SERVE YOU

RAYMOND'S AUTOMOBILE KITCHEN

Chambersburg St. GETTYSBURG, PENN'A.

Are You Getting Ready to Build?

If so let us supply the building materials—Lumber, Roofing, Slate, Terra Cotta Tiling, Patent Wall Plasters. Dealer also in COAL, WOOD and PREPARED COKE.

CONSIDER THE FOLLOWING ATTRACTIVE CEMENT SUGGESTIONS

Make the Chimney Cap of Cement

It will be stronger even than stone and will not fall apart like a chimney top of brick. Get a bag of and make your own. There are lots of other things about your place you can make of cement. You'll find "Edison" Cement the most economical because, being ground finer than any other cement in the world, it works better and goes farther. Anything you want to know about mixing cement we'll gladly tell you.

EDISON CEMENT

J. O. BLOCHER, Railroad & Carlisle Sts.

Dr. Fahrney's Teething Syrup

Relieves the pains and cures the ailments that make babies cry and fret and grow sick and weak; checks Diarrhoea; prevents Convulsions; cures Sour Stomach, Colic, Cramps and all Stomach and Bowel Ailments of babies. Safest, purest and best medicine for babies, 25 cents at drug stores. Trial bottle FREE by mail of Drs. D. Fahrney & Son, Hagerstown, Md. If you mention this paper.

KEEPS BABY FROM CRYING.

Not on the Chart

A Lighthouse Story

By CLARISSA MACKIE

The rain fell in long, slanting sheets and drummed against Joel Webster's oilskins with a noise that muffled the throb of his engine. The motorboat rose on the crest of big waves and then dived down into pitchy blackness, for it was night. He had lost his bearings an hour ago, when he had left Hadden harbor for the short trip down the coast after a catboat which had gone adrift, and now he was trying to find the harbor's mouth once more.

He tried to discern the familiar light that would set him on the right course, but the lighthouse seemed blotted out in the storm.

"I ought to be somewhere near the harbor's mouth by this time," he panted after he had recovered from a drenching wave. He bent forward and peered ahead as if to pierce the blackness with his keen eyes.

"Seems as if I ought to see the ledge light unless—unless something's happened to Peter Langdon!" He inclined his ear, and close at hand he heard the roar of waves breaking on ragged rocks. "Good Lord, if it isn't the ledge, and no light!"

The wheel spun around in his strong hands, and the motorboat put about until she was headed straight for the booming waves. If Joel Webster had not known the ledge like a book he might have gone straight to destruction on the bristling rocks that encompassed the lighthouse. But his ear was trained to the voice of the sea, and at just the right moment he swung his little craft around into the narrow opening that gave upon comparatively quiet water.

It was a matter of considerable skill to make a landing in the storm, but at last he moored the boat safely and crawled along the platform until he came to the narrow iron stairway that led to a door above the highest water mark.

His repeated battering brought quick light steps across the floor and the sound of a frightened voice from within.

"Oh, is anybody there?" called the girl. "Yes," he shouted back, but the wind tore the words away, and he had to repeat his cry again and again before she understood that his voice was not the cry of frightened gulls or the scream of the raging wind.

The door opened outward, and he staggered within the warm, cozy shelter of the sitting room. The girl was busy locking the door and so she did not look at him until he had removed his dripping sou'wester and pushed back the tangled hair from his wet forehead.

"Oh, it's you, Joel!" she faltered, with a little backward step of alarm. "Yes, it's me," said Joel Webster crisply. "I was out in the storm, and I noticed the lamp wasn't lighted. What's the matter?"

"It's none of your business what's the matter!" called an angry voice from the adjoining room. "Dora, is that fresh Webster boy in there?"

"Yes, it's me," repeated Joel for the second time. He drew near the communicating door and looked in on the recumbent form of a large, old man, who appeared to be suffering great pain. "What's the matter—hurt yourself?" asked Joel bluntly.

"Broke my leg," growled Peter Langdon ungraciously.

"Where's Marshall?"

"Went ashore this morning and hasn't come back. Drunk as a lord, I reckon!" growled the lighthouse keeper. "Dora here tried to get the lamp going, but she couldn't, bless her heart!"

"I'm going to light the lamp for you, and when it's going good I'll come back and make you comfortable," announced Joel in a matter of fact tone.

Peter Langdon half raised himself in bed and shook his fist at the young man. "Don't you dare touch my lamp, Joel Webster! Didn't I warn you off these here premises a week ago? Didn't I say I wouldn't have you around here?"

Joel folded his arms and looked the irate keeper in the eye. "Yes, you told me all that, Mr. Langdon, but that hasn't got anything to do with lighting the lamp tonight."

"It hasn't, eh? Why not?"

"Because what you said to me then has got to do with Dora. The only reason I came tonight was because I saw the light was out and I thought you were in trouble." Joel spoke firmly and without one backward glance at the girl who stood behind him.

"You leave that lamp alone!" commanded Peter wrathfully. "You needn't try to play the good Samaritan with me!"

"You mean you're going to turn me out in this storm again?" asked Joel quietly.

"If you could get here you can get away," growled the keeper.

"Oh, father," cried the girl, "please—don't speak like that!"

"You must hate me a lot, Mr. Langdon," said Joel slowly. "If I knew the reason why I'd be better satisfied."

He turned abruptly away and opened the door that led to the spiral stairway. "I'm going to light the lamp," he said over his shoulder, and without waiting for Peter Langdon's snarling remonstrance, he closed the door and ascended to the lamp room. In a few moments the four burners were sending long red rays through the driving storm. A fog horn blared dully from the distance. It was very cold and very lonely up there, and Joel longed to go down to the cheery warmth of the room below, but he hesitated.

Peter Langdon needed him sorely. Some one must relieve the ailing man of the agonizing pain of his broken limb. Joel thrust prejudice aside and returned to the lower room and approached the bedroom door.

"You won't be blamed because your light's not burning," he announced cheerfully. "Now, Mr. Langdon, if you'll let me, I think I can fix that leg of yours so you'll be comfortable till a doctor gets out here in the morning. You know I've been quite handy about helping set broken limbs, and—"

"Get along with you!" ordered Peter fiercely. "I don't want you to come near me."

"Then I'll go ashore and fetch a doctor tonight," and Joel picked up his hat and shrugged into his oilskins. In an instant he had opened and closed the outer door and was gone into the stormy night.

Dora Langdon sank down beside the bed and hid her face in the blankets. "Oh, father," she cried, "why did you let him go? Perhaps he will be drowned!"

"What if he is?" demanded the man fiercely. "Would you care?"

There was a little silence while the girl's shoulders heaved with emotion. "Of course I'd care," she said in a muffled tone.

A look of pain wrinkled Peter's harsh features. "Then—then you must like him a lot," he said hoarsely.

"I do, father," she sobbed.

"I thought—maybe you'd be satisfied with just me," he said in a low tone. "I lost your mother when you was born, and I set store by you, Dora, thinking maybe you'd care enough about me to stay with me, but I've got to give you up to him. I hate the young jacksnapes!"

"Oh, father, dear, don't think I shall love you any less!" cried Dora, throwing her arms around his neck. "Don't you understand how anybody can care for more than one person at a time? When you loved my mother, couldn't you love your own mother too?"

Peter Langdon swallowed a lump in his throat and muttered under his breath. Dora could not hear what he said, but she felt that his mood was softening. "Don't worry about Joel, father," she pleaded. "You know he said the other day that he would never marry me without your consent, so you see you can keep me a prisoner here in your tower all my life if you wish."

"Would you be happy and contented to stay with me alone?" asked her father.

"I might not be entirely happy, father, but I would try to be contented," she said steadily.

There was silence between the two after that which lasted well into the night. The waves roared on the rocks at the base of the tower, and the wind screamed wildly as it chased the flying rain. Father and daughter were thinking of the brave young man with face set toward Hadden harbor. The older man's fierce jealousy had driven Joel forth into the wildest storm of the season. Would he reach the shore alive?

If he did not, how could Peter Langdon make up the loss to his daughter? He asked himself this question over and over as the long hours passed. Dora arose after awhile, and with white, set face she attended to little household duties that she might not be distracted by the acuteness of her anxiety. Now and then she administered a cordial to the suffering man on the bed, but after awhile he lay very quiet with closed eyes, and she thought he was asleep.

The sitting room clock was chiming 3 when there came a beating at the outer door. Dora flew to open it with trembling fingers, and two storm swept men entered the room. The girl ran to and fro, helping the doctor and Joel Webster to shed their oilskins and bringing them steaming bowls of ginger tea.

"Sensible little girl," approved Dr. Brown as he set the bowl on the table. "Now for your father, Dora."

Joel sat in the background, white and worn with the strain of his night's work. At least he could keep out of Peter Langdon's way until that man of wrath had been made comfortable. Perhaps then there might be a spare bed. Joel nodded gently off to sleep sitting bolt upright on his chair.

"I want Joel to help," said Peter Langdon in a mild voice as the doctor made his careful examination, and it was a very happy Dora who gently shook Joel into wakefulness and whispered her father's request.

As the three busied themselves over the broken leg Peter Langdon, quite unmindful of pain, uttered his thoughts aloud. "As good as the sea goes down doctor, I wish you'd bring the minister over. We're going to have a wedding here!"

"O-ho!" smiled the physician. "So that's the way the wind blows, eh? Going to like a life ashore, is that?"

Joel had found the hand of Dora's father and was gripping it gratefully. Before the girl could frame an answer to the doctor's question Joel spoke with the little tentative air that Peter Langdon so rarely liked.

"We're going to live right here with Mr. Langdon, if he'll let me. I'm going to get Marshall's job if I can—that is, if—"

"Father-in-law," supplied Peter with a grim smile.

"If father-in-law will consent," smiled Joel.

"You'll get it," said Peter hurriedly. "Why, this debt was off the chart tonight till Joel came and fixed her up."

"And I will see your chart until tonight, too," grinned Joel.

Don't Guide a Man. "We were late," growled the girl, who was tired, "because we went fifteen blocks out of our way."

"Why did you do that?" asked an unsympathetic brother. "Why didn't you keep your eyes open and take the right car?"

"I did," said the girl. "I knew which way to go, but my escort got confused, and I didn't dare to put him on the right track. If I had he would never have forgiven me. I have lost the friendship of three interesting men by that very evidence of strongmindedness. Experience has taught me that, next to being caught in a fib, the thing that most fills a man is to be guided by a woman. To wander around like a babe in the woods, to retrace his steps half a dozen times and finally to arrive somewhere an hour late are blunders that he can cover up with one excuse or another, but for a woman to take the lead and say, 'We want this car,' or 'We must go this way,' presupposes a state of lamentable ignorance on his part and makes him hate that woman forevermore."—New York Times.

Already Had It.

A southwestern sheriff, visiting New York to take a prisoner back to his district, was turned over to an inspector, who was to be his amusement guide. They wound up at an east side hall, where there were a few dips present.

After a half hour the inspector called one of the crooks to one side and said: "See that tall man with the sombrero?"

"Yes. What about him?"

"He's a Texas bull I'm showing around, and I think it would be a fancy idea if you could nick him for his ticker."

"Nix; you're trying to put me in bad."

"Nothing like it—purely a joke, that's all. To show you I'm on the level I give you my word that you won't get in trouble, and I'll give you a five dollar note for his watch."

"All right. Here it is."—Chicago Post.

A Board and a Paper.

Take an ordinary board two or three feet long, such as a bread board, and place it on the table so that about one-third of its length will project over the edge. Unfold a newspaper and lay it on the table over the board. Any one not familiar with the experiment would suppose the board could be knocked off by hitting it on the outer end. It would appear to be easy to do, but try it. Unless you are prepared to break the board you will probably not be able to knock the board off. The reason is that when the board is struck it forces the other end up and the newspaper along with it. This causes a momentary vacuum to be formed under the paper, and the pressure of the air above, which is about fifteen pounds to the square inch, prevents the board from coming up.

Classic New York.

There is probably no better illustration of the irrelevancy of certain place names than that afforded by the classic names of many towns, villages and cities in the state of New York. By way of illustration the following names from the single county of Cayuga may be mentioned: Auburn, Aurelius, Brutus, Cato, Conquest, Genoa, Mentz, Scipio, Sempronius and Venice. In Onondaga county are Apulia, Camillus, Cicero, Delphi, Euclid, Fabius, Marius, Marcellus, Memphis, Mycenae, Pompey and the large city of Syracuse. In Seneca county are names like Junius, Ovid and Romulus. Other large cities in other parts of the state are named Rome, Utica and Troy.—Report of American Scenic and Historic Preservation Society.

Some Apple Terms.

In describing the fruit the word "base" means the part of the apple at the stem end; "apex," the portion at the blossom end; "cavity" is the depression around the flower end; "calyx" the so called flower in the apex of the apple. The general form is referred to as being "round," "oblate," "conical" and "oblong." As regards size, apples are said to be "small" when two and one-half inches in diameter or under; from two and one-half to three and one-half inches they are termed "medium" and above this "large."—Rural Californian.

Two Letters.

Nelly—What kind of a letter did your husband write when he was away? Wife—He started "My Precious Treasure" and ended by sending "love." "How did you answer?" "I started with 'My Precious Treasurer' and ended with 'Send me $5.'"—London Tit-Bits.

Solved.

"Twelve persons for dinner! Aren't you crazy to invite so many?" "We might invite a thirteenth. That would perhaps take away their appetite."—Paris Souris.

Dainty Fare.

Customer—Four pounds of black pudding, please. Pork Butcher—Yes, sir, in a minute. Customer—Serve me at once. It's for an invalid.—Paris Liberte.

No Returns.

Hokus—So she didn't return your love, eh? Pokus—Return my love? Why, she didn't even return my presents.—Town Topics.

Wasted Time.

No boy, when he applies for a job at any business man's place, is asked if he is an expert at playing pool.—Philadelphia Ledger.

NEW DEEDS! NEW DEEDS!